CHIEFS ORDER RAIL STRIKERS TO WORK; MEN "STAND PAT"

ASSERTS AMERICAN REDS ARE URGING REVOLUTION

N. Y. BANKER DECLARES CRISIS IS COMING

Lewis M. Pierson Asserts Pacific Coast Is Aflame With Activities
SOUND THINKERS NOT TAKING ANY INTEREST

Believes National Action Is Imperative to Check Spread of Propaganda

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Lewis M. Pierson, head of the Irving National Bank and a director of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, following a trip throughout the west to investigate industrial conditions, today gave an interview to the United Press, in which his impressions were summed up as follows:

Radicals are openly advocating revolution. Business men seem indifferent to or ignorant of the facts.

No real effort is being made to answer bolshevik propaganda.

Apparently a shrewdly conducted and amply financed bolshevik campaign aims at the overthrow of the government.

A crisis is at hand.

It calls for national action.

Pierson made the trip in his capacity as director of the chamber of commerce of the United States. Replying to questions asked by the United Press, he said:

Much Propaganda.

"The outstanding feature of the trip was, on the one hand, the evidence we found of an extraordinary amount of revolutionary propaganda abroad in the country, and, on the other hand, the amazing lack of effort to combat the dangerous teachings.

"The Pacific coast, in particular, is aflame with radical activities. It is noticeable all the way from Los Angeles to Seattle. This issue is not merely over the proper relationship between labor and capital.

"Yet, nearly everywhere business men and sound thinkers appear indifferent or else bewildered. Meanwhile, the neglect to oppose this destructive campaign has resulted in many small property owners and farmers being swept into the bolshevik current.

"In one western city we were told that the only printed arguments against bolshevism to be found in the book stores were the bible and the constitution of the United States.

"Yet in case of these stores at least fifty books and pamphlets were purchased, all advocating bolshevism and

Woman Gets Million From Few Thousands In 8 Years

Mrs. C. P. Adams, Banker, Rail Magnate, Still Operates Fish Market

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 28.—Mrs. C. P. Adams has accomplished something few men have been able to do. She has turned a few thousand dollars into a million during the last eight years.

Mrs. Adams eight years ago had a small retail fish market. She made some investments which turned out well. Then she made more and larger ones and her money grew rapidly. She is now a banker, railroad bond owner and oil magnate. She says she made her money by "sticking to it" even when odds were against her and investments that looked as if they might be losing ventures turned out big as the result of her patience and nerve.

Mrs. Adams still manages her little fish market and says she intends to keep at it.

BULLETINS

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Fifteen cars oranges, one car lemons sold. Market 15 cents higher. Averages range from $3.12 to $3.03. Highest price, 14 boxes President, $3.20. Lemon market unchanged. Averages range from $4.14 to $5.06. Weather fair; temperature, 8 a. m., 60.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The House today passed the bill authorizing the permanent rank of general for John J. Pershing. The honor probably will be conferred at a joint session of Congress planned in Pershing's honor. No action was taken to confer similar rank on Chief of Staff March.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—President Wilson today asked Congress to appropriate immediately $825,000 for the expenses of the American Peace Commission at Paris. At the same time he submitted a partial report on expenditures which shows that the actual and estimated cost of America's part in the peace making is $1,506,776.43.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—American army property in France including railroads and railroad stocks, docks, buildings and surplus material have been sold to the French government for $400,000,000, to be paid for in ten years, 5 per cent gold bonds, Secretary of War Baker announced today.

CITY FALLS DOWN ON BUTTON BUYING

Unless $2000 Is Raised By Sept. 9, Santa Ana Will Be Slacker

LAGUNA BEACH IS ONLY PLACE GETTING QUOTA

Plans Are Completed For Many Features of Big Picnic at Park

UNLESS $2000 more is raised before

Sept. 9, Santa Ana will slip into the slacker class—and this in the last activity of the war, an activity that would honor those men and women who cast aside their civil opportunities to take up the battle of this country in its fight for preservation of the ideals of America.

The entire county looms as a slacker in the subscribing of quotas of memberships in the Orange County War Recognition Association—organized solely for the purpose of demonstrating to the service men and women the deep appreciation of the people of the county for the sacrifices they made.

Laguna Beach today is the only community in the county that stands 100 per cent to the good in financing the big county welcome to the boys and women.

Is it possible that the people of Orange County so soon have forgotten that these men and women, did in their behalf—went forth to preserve and protect their homes and their wealth as much as for the preservation of the homes of the allied fighters?

The scale of the celebration has been carried along such lines as to require a vast sum of money. The only source of funds is by membership in the association—$1.00 for a button indicating alignment with the great activity, and yet thousands of Orange county residents have fallen down on that small obligation.

Santa Ana Failing
Santa Ana, the county seat of the richest county on earth, is falling down! The metropolis of the county, the city of all cities that should set the pace, is failing to meet its obligation! Can the people of the city who have not come forward with their memberships and secured the button that ranks them as 100 per cent loyal look those returned boys in the face in the future?

Is it possible that they think more of a little old silver dollar than they do of offering an opportunity to those men and women to have a day of pleasure, that their hearts might recognize the plaudits of their neighbors and home people in a public demonstration of appreciation?

There is yet time to make amends. Membership buttons are on sale at all the drug stores and banks in Santa Ana. Get busy, and take up that shortage of $2000 without further delay. The county is several thousand short.

Blythe Suffering Famine In Bread Fruit, Vegetables

BLYTHE, Cal., Aug. 28.—Blythe, situated at the edge of the California state line two hundred miles east of Los Angeles, faces a bread, fruit and vegetable famine today as a result of the tie-up of railroads by striking railroad men.

Train and mail service has been discontinued since Saturday, wire and auto communication being the only means of outside connection for the Palo Verde Valley.

NOTES OF STRIKE RESULTS IN CITIES OF STATE

BARSTOW, Cal., Aug. 28.—The tourist congestion here has been relieved today and Barstow is swinging back to its normal civic life.

A continued stream of automobiles and auto trucks from San Bernardino and cities of Orange county, particularly Santa Ana, yesterday picked up the remaining several hundred marooned passengers and brought them to points where electric transportation could be obtained to Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28.—Irwin L. R. Day, striking Southern Pacific switchman who was shot on the night of August 21 while passing a Pacific Electric car barn, died last night at a local hospital.

Day's alleged assailant, Mayer Smuckler, 19, a railway guard, was as liberty today on $1000 bail.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 28.—Conditions on the Sacramento division of the Southern Pacific are normal today, according to Superintendent J. D. Brennan. Trains are arriving and departing on schedule both from east and west.

The switchmen and yardmen who walked out at 4 p. m. yesterday, took a strike vote and returned to work at 6:45. Between those hours the local yards were tied up.

"Sacramento set the example when the switchmen returned to work here that the men in the bay district are following," Brennan said.

MEMBERS OF THE Orange County

Auto Trades Association who yesterday volunteered to go to the relief of marooned passengers at Barstow, did not get any further than San Bernardino. At the depot there they learned that the railroad company had arranged for buses and automobiles to go to the desert town for the stranded passengers. Two buses from Fullerton were requisitioned by the company. Some of the local party remained over in San Bernardino and took loads from there to Los Angeles, returning to Santa Ana about 3 o'clock this morning.

STOCKTON, Cal., Aug. 28.—What action local railroad men will take depends on the outcome of a mass meeting to be held this morning. After quitting their jobs yesterday afternoon in accordance with their agreement with the Tracy workers, the men obeyed instructions of their officers and returned to work. However, they will only handle east-bound trains. How long they will do this depends on whether or not the workers at Roseville go out.

$30,000,000 ESTATE WILLED BY CARNEGIE

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Andrew Carnegie left an estate valued at between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000. This was made known today by Elihu Root, Jr., member of the law firm which prepared the philanthropist's will for probate. The will was probated here at noon today.

GORE RESOLUTION PASSES
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The Senate today passed the Gore resolution providing for an investigation of the war risk insurance bureau.

TROLLEY MEN BELIEVE STEAM LINE EMPLOYEES WON'T RESUME PLACES

Los Angeles Railway Strikers Ignore Injunction By Superior Judge Works and Fail to Appear In Court; Mass Meeting of Public Is Called By Twenty-two Business Organizations; Federal Grand Jury Probes Mail Tieup

CLEVELAND, Aug. 28.—Striking railroad workers on the Pacific Coast were ordered to return to work by Saturday morning by the four brotherhood chiefs here today. The order was issued from the offices of Warren S. Stone of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and stated that unless the organized workers return to work by Saturday morning the officials of the four brotherhoods will help the federal railroad administration operate the lines affected by the walkout. The belief was expressed that the order will be obeyed.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28.—There is no movement toward work among Los Angeles strikers according to statements of strike leaders at the Labor Temple today.

Hundreds of striking switchmen, trainmen and shop employees gathered in groups in front of the temple and indignantly discussed reports that a general movement back to the job was under way.

"We are standing pat," was the general sentiment of these people. Announcement is said to have been made in a meeting of striking Los Angeles railway employees that the steam line brotherhood would not desert their cause.

Other developments up to noon are: Striking employees of the Los Angeles Railway ignored an injunction issued by Superior Judge Works and failed to appear in court.

A mass meeting of the public was called by 22 business organizations for tomorrow in an effort to terminate the present strike conditions.

United States Railway mail service heads in Los Angeles announced that special arrangements have been made for temporary relief in the mail tieup.

The federal grand jury began investigation of alleged interference with U. S. mail by strikers.

Expect Strikers Will Make Some Work Announcement Today.

Official announcement of definite action of striking members of the railroad brotherhoods in and about Los Angeles likely will be forthcoming today, it was learned.

An all night meeting was held by brotherhood representatives here. Brotherhood men of San Bernardino following a meeting which adjourned at midnight announced they would abide by the decision of the Los Angeles meeting.

Two hundred west-bound passengers are reported held up at Albuquerque, New Mexico.

A walkout was affected late yesterday by railroad men at Seligman, Ariz. Yuma, Ariz., reports strikers are returning to work there to await sanction from national officers.

Passenger trains bound for Los Angeles are tied up at Tucson. A party of fifty "emergency workers" for the Pacific Electric arrived here from Barstow yesterday.

Platform men who remained at work on the Los Angeles railway company's lines threaten to quit if striking workers are reinstated as a body.

Twenty-two business bodies dispatched a telegram to President Wilson and Director General Hines, asking that they end the present strike here and pledging their support.

San Francisco's Strikers Ask U.S. To Take over P.E.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—Striking San Francisco yard men wired Washington today demanding that the government take over the Pacific Electric and reinstate its employees.

The action was taken following a mass meeting of railroad strikers who are out in sympathy with the P. E. men. Strikers said the men were determined to stay out despite the action of Oakland men who returned to work. The Southern Pacific announced it had removed the freight embargo made yesterday with the exception that it still holds for San Francisco, Stockton and all points south of those cities.

Indications were many early today that the spontaneous railroad strike that burst over the San Francisco bay region yesterday was wearing itself out urging, without mincing of words, resort to force to overthrow the existing order.

High Wages Cause.

"The fact that conditions are so acute on the Pacific coast apparently grows out of the extraordinary wages paid by the government to shipyard workers and others employed in producing war necessities.

"It is the same disease that affects our industries throughout the nation. Under the spur of producing great quantities of war material, it was easy for wage adjustment boards to find a motive to order large increases in wages.

Manufacturers, knowing they could add wage increases to their cost of production, readily paid the advances. Ordinary domestic business in competition with war industries and war activities paying excessive wage scales, were forced to follow suit.

"The cumulative effect was the stepping up of labor costs, production costs and selling prices in all lines—each successive wage increase resulting in a corresponding rise in the cost of living.

"Huge mass meetings are being held at which laborers are being told that they are entitled as a matter of right to their abnormal wages and very much more. Ordinary laborers in many cases are receiving more wages than firemen, policemen, many clergymen and college educators. We were told of some cases where professional men left their ordinary work in order to earn the wages of a shipyard laborer.

Infection is Spreading

"While these conditions were most acute on the Pacific coast, the infection is spreading. In a few cases, business men, aroused by the danger, are taking action. Spokane has started a campaign of education. In Minneapolis business men have organized. Whenever there is a socialist or revolutionary meeting, arrangements are made for a meeting at the nearest neighborhood point at which the conservative side is presented.

"These are business men's attempts. Yet one cannot see any of the country today, save in a few cities, even in New York, without seeing that there is a steadily conducted, amply financed, socialist campaign aimed at the destruction of the whole order of civilization. The socialist movement practically nothing is being done by sound and experienced elements of the country to present the simple economic truths involved.

"In most of the cities visited, the people generally seemed concerned almost exclusively with their daily local affairs and were giving little thought or care to fundamental national or international problems which we must face and settle if civilization is to be preserved.

Action is Needed

"The situation calls for action. Not since the free silver campaign has there been such a definite need for the same inculcation of some economic thinking in this country. American people are fair and if the facts are presented to them there can be no doubt of the result.

"It must be made clear that there is an unresolvable relationship between wages and the cost of production and that only through increased effort can enough commodities be produced to establish an equilibrium between a world supply and world demand and thus bring about lower prices.

"Until Europe gets back to something like normal farm and factory output, nothing but increased production upon our part as well as Europe's part can make up this world shortage and bring about reductions in our cost of living.

Fair Share of Price

"And the vitally important fact to bring home to the mind of every working man is that the effort to increase production is not to take out of his increased effort an increased profit for the business man or banker, but that this increased effort will yield and is yielding to the working man in wages a fair share of the selling price of his product.

"It is of vital importance to the prosperity of this nation that the business men of the whole country should be aroused to the nature of the crisis which confronts the country. In an organized effort which should be made to meet this crisis an effort should be made to enlist the patriotic service of every good American. Such an organization should be in its makeup what it must be in result, and that is, something in the success of which every laboring man and every farmer has just as much interest as any employer."

AMERICAN LABOR HEADS BEGIN SESSION

Steel and Railroad Strike Situation to Be Given Quick Action

BY FRED S. FERGUSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Holding in its hands the delicate balance of the economic and industrial immediate future of the country, the executive council of the American Federation of Labor met in extraordinary session here today.

Among leaders, drawn here by disputes in their trades, or attracted by the important meeting of the council, belief was expressed that presidents of all the various unions affiliated with the A. F. of L. might be summoned before final action is taken on the big pending problems.

While immediate action is expected on the steel and railroad situation, they believe the rank and file may be consulted before steps are taken on the broader questions of future policy. The threat of strike of the union employees of the United States Steel Corporation and the demands of the railroad shippers will be given first consideration by the council.

Wilson's Stand Factor

The stand of President Wilson against further wage increases, in reply to the demands of the shippers, is a tremendous factor in the situation.

The leaders of the shippers are confident their men are ready to strike for the increased demands. They are not certain, however, that public sentiment would approve the strike, in view of the President's appeal. Opposition to this appeal is the unrest in the rank and file of labor.

California railroad workers are striking in defiance of orders from the union leaders. Numerous smaller strikes, under similar conditions, are in progress and leaders here report a growing tendency of the rank and file to act over the heads of their union officials.

A decision by the executive council to answer the President's appeal and hold all strikes in abeyance, therefore, involves a test of power of control of the organization.

Plumb to Appear

Glenn Plumb, framer of the Plumb plan for nationalization and democratization of railroads, will appear before the council on behalf of the railroad brotherhoods and ten other railway workers' unions. Announcement of a definite policy as regards the Plumb plan is expected to follow, thus opening up the entire question of nationalization of similar industries and workers' participation in control.

President Gompers arrived here early today from New York with other members of the executive council, which was scheduled to go into session at 10 o'clock. Those attending the meeting were Gompers, Secretary Frank Morrison, Treasurer Daniel Tobin, and Vice Presidents James Duncan, J. P. Valentine, T. A. Rickert, William Green, Jacob Fischer, W. D. Mahon, Frank Duffy and Matthew Well.

Came to See Sweetheart; Caught in Lockout, Rail Man Piles Beans on Farm

Coming down to see his sweetheart, who lives in the vicinity of Santa Ana, Roy Sparks, a Santa Fe brakeman at San Bernardino, found himself without a job when the strike broke. He didn't kick. Rather he liked the situation. He remained here and just to keep his muscles in trim he struck Frank Thomas on McClay street for a job. Sure Thomas had a job for a good man and Sparks was put to work.

Piling beans was the task Thomas set him at and he worked just as merrily and just as ambitiously as he does when he is breaking on the road. He made a good hand in the field, one of the best Thomas has had this season. He worked for $3.50 per day, although his regular wage is considerably more than this.

But he was content—there was nothing for him to do in his chosen vocation and then—and then, he was rather near his sweetheart and that is some compensation in itself.

The work was completed last evening and this morning Thomas gave him a check and he returned to San Bernardino to be on hand when the ban is lifted and the wheels again commence to turn.

3000 STEEL WORKERS STRIKE AT CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, Aug. 28.—Three thousand steel workers went out on strike here today, and it is only with difficulty that union officials are preventing other organized steel workers from doing likewise, according to Gilbert Sharp, business agent for the Cleveland Blacksmiths Union.

U. OF C. RECORDER IS FORCED OUT BY CROWD

BERKELEY, Cal., Aug. 28.—The University of California is about to move out of doors.

Unable to handle the great number of students enrolled, the recorder will move from the administrative offices in California Hall and establish temporary quarters under the trees in the eucalyptus grove, while undergraduates file study lists and other information.

More than 8,000 are registered in the university this semester.

A fund of $17,400 for publicity work is sought by the Fresno Chamber of Commerce.

"Isn't he rather fast, dear?" asked the anxious mother.

"Yes, mama," replied the girl, "but I don't think he will get away."

ORDER STRIKERS TO WORK BY SATURDAY

Men 'Stand Pat' and Declare They Have No Intention of Returning

and that union leaders would regain control of the situation before night-fall.

Train service was resumed across the bay in and out of Oakland last night following a meeting at which trainmen voted to return to work.

At a similar meeting in San Francisco no decision was reached and the meeting was resumed today.

Clearing of the situation is attributed largely to the unceasing efforts of union leaders to induce the men to return to work, plus the veiled threat of Rail Director Hines that the government would actually operate the trains if the strike did not come to an end at once.

Hines wired District Attorney Sproule that "the government is taking the necessary steps to deal with the matter without the lapse of further time unless this last effort of the chief executives of the organizations speedily proves successful."

He referred to a telegram sent by the brotherhood chiefs to their representatives, both here and at Los Angeles, ordering the men back to work within 24 hours under pain of suspension.

Federal Manager Scott of the Southern Pacific had posted a statement that none of the men who returned to work would lose seniority rights.

That the strike, because of its spontaneous nature here, lacked leadership, was the general opinion.

Incoming transcontinental passenger traffic was diverted to another route but was never interrupted. All freight movement into this territory ceased when an embargo was ordered.

The Overland left for Ogden via Tracy at 6:30 p. m. The Pacific Limited left for Oakland earlier. No. 54 left at 10:20 p. m. for Portland. Train No. 10 left at 9 p. m. with mail for eastern points.

Because of the temporary revolution in leadership among the strikers, it was impossible yesterday to determine properly the number of men out.

It is now known that only the yardmen struck and that congestion at the terminals caused the tie-up. Two hundred and forty yardmen in Oakland and 270 in San Francisco forced an embargo on all freight and paralyzed passenger service.

The Western Pacific's passenger service was not interrupted, because it established a temporary passenger station in Oakland. The Western Pacific, however, is devoted mainly to freight now.

Trainmen Ordered to Work Under Expulsion Threat

The following message was received by the Santa Fe agent here today. It is a copy of instructions sent out last night and is self-explanatory:

"San Bernardino, Aug. 27. "Agent, Santa Ana.

"Note the following message from A. G. Wells, general manager:

"Am just advised that the following notice addressed to members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen is being distributed today at Oakland:

"Advise all members of the brotherhood that we will not engage in sympathetic strikes and tell our members that less than two months ago 158 members of the brotherhood were expelled from the organization at Wilson, N. J. for sympathetic action. While many of them lost their positions, our members must return to work and uphold their contract if they expect to retain membership and support of their organization.

Signed "W. G. LEE."

"Am also advised that Local Chairman W. E. King of the Southern Pacific Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, West Oakland, posted notice quoting telegram signed by Grand Chief Engineer Warren S. Stone, reading as follows:

"Effective at once, notify all members of division that the strike is illegal from start to finish and all members of the B. L. E. will be required to abide by the laws of the organization and carry out the contract made in good faith both with the individual roads and the Federal Government. Failing to do so, they will be expelled inside of twenty-four hours. Unless there is a decided improvement the government will take steps to operate the roads. You take know what this means. Impress upon every one the necessity of using sober thoughts and exercise common sense and not be carried away by a waiver of mob law."

"I am in connection with General Chairman L. L. Sanford of the Southern Pacific instructed, 'Positive orders from Stone to instruct your men to perform usual duties and carry out agreement provisions.

"It is assumed that the Santa Fe general chairman of the B. L. E. and B. R. T. have similar instructions, but we are unable to say after repeated efforts to get in touch with them. If any confirmation of the attitude of the presidents of the organizations is desired, suggest to local chairman that I think it would be well to wire direct to their grand chiefs. Vice President Witnev of the B. R. T. can be reached care Santa Fe agent at Albuquerque and you place our wire at the disposal of men interested who desire to receive instructions from him.

"Post the bulletin on bulletin board, put in hands of local chairman and give widest publicity possible and furnish copies to press."

"J. R. HITCHCOCK."

"Isn't he rather fast, dear?" asked the anxious mother.

"Yes, mama," replied the girl, "but I don't think he will get away."

SANTA ANA NEAR SLACKER CLASS FOR OUTING

Must Raise $2000 More to Make Service Men's Big Welcome a Success

A competent auditing committee will account for every dollar that is received and expended. If there is any money left over after the expenses of the big celebration are paid, the surplus will go into whatever channel the advisory committee might conclude to be the best.

W. B. Williams, cashier of the First National, Santa Ana; A. B. McCord, of the American National, Anaheim, and Lew H. Wallace, of the First National, Newport Beach, compose the auditing committee.

Many Plans Completed

The executive committee met last night to pick up loose ends of the celebration and brought many ends of the welcome to a definite point.

Robert Williams, a resident of Orange from 1891 to 1905, has been selected as Chaplain for the day, and may deliver an address. He served twenty-one months of service, and had the distinction of being picked from the ranks and made a chaplain. He now has a commission as captain.

He was with Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, and should be able to arrive on the coast before September 9th, he may be a guest at the welcoming celebration. Captain Williams is a resident of Los Angeles, and a close friend of Colonel Roosevelt, and he promises that if the distinguished army man arrives in time, he will be brought to the celebration. Williams was recommended by Roosevelt for a distinguished service medal.

The gold trowel with which Governor Stephens will lay the cornerstone of the memorial arch at the entrance to the park will be presented to the governor by T. B. Talbert, chairman of the Board of Supervisors. The inscription will be, "To Governor W. D. Stephens from the Orange County War Service Recognition Association, September 9, 1919; Memorial to Orange County Heroes of World War, 1917-19."

A temporary welcome arch will be erected about 100 yards from the main entrance. It will be appropriately decorated and will serve as the first welcome greeting to the service men as they go into the park.

Bands Are Engaged

The bands of Santa Ana, Anaheim and Huntington Beach will provide music for the day, with orchestras for dance music. The Huntington Beach band will play from 10:00 to 11:30 in the forenoon and 4:00 to 5:00 in the afternoon; Anaheim, 11:45 a. m. to 1:00 p. m. and 5:00 to 6:00 p. m.; Santa Ana, following the speaking in the afternoon and again at 6:00 in the evening. The three bands will be massed for a concert program from 1:30 to 2:15 p. m. Pop Endicott of Huntington Beach, is in charge of the band program, and he has announced this schedule. The music committee was authorized to provide orchestras for dancing.

General Pershing has acknowledged the receipt of an invitation to attend the celebration, and under date of August 8, advises R. L. Bisby that he regrets that he cannot be here for the occasion. He is still in France.

One thousand gallons of coffee, 500 gallons of lemonade and 5000 ice cream cones for the little ones tell the story of the committee's plans for providing refreshments for the vast throng that will be on the grounds that day. Mrs. J. P. Keller of Orange, chairman of the Orange County Canteen, composed of women of Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton, has volunteered the services of the organization. Serving of lemonade has been assigned to the canteen women. They will wear uniforms. This relieves the committee of a problem that has bothered it more or less for some time and the offer of Mrs. Keller is deeply appreciated.

No one need stay away from the grounds on the 9th for fear of accidents incident to the big crowd. Policing and parking arrangements have been perfected to a point where the hazard will be reduced to the minimum.

The packing houses of Villa Park, El Modena, Howes ranch and McPherson will distribute 5000 boxes on the grounds to provide seats for the older people.

Major E. J. Marks of Fullerton, has been authorized to arrange with the high schools of the county having bus equipment to put the busses in action for transporting those who have no equipment. This service will be rendered free. Marks will also take up with the railroad commission the matter of issuing special permits to stage lines to operate to the park on that date. Packing houses with trucks will be asked to fit the machines with seats and use the cars in the transport service.

While the cornerstone is being laid five aeroplanes will circle over the spot and drop flowers. A corps of buglers will sound taps and thirty-two men will fire the salute. High school cadets will assist in policing the grounds.

Steps have been taken to have service men in the oil wells released for the day and every employer having such a man in his employ is urged to give him his liberty for the day.

Orange has not raised more than half of her quota and tomorrow morning twenty girls will sail forth into the highways and byways to "dig up" the shortage. The city has been districted and girls assigned to each. They will make a house-to-house canvass and will endeavor to induce families to take out membership for each member of the family.

The girls are enthusiastic and believe they can deliver the goods and save the face and fair name of Orange. They are determined that Orange shall not show the white feather at the last moment and their admiration for the boys who donned the khaki will be an incentive for them to use their sweetest smile and most persuasive language to induce memberships.

HEARING ON FREE TOLL ZONES IS SEPT. 5

Date Is Postponed For Three Days By State Railroad Commission

Hearing before the railroad commission of the petition of Glendale for restoration of the free toll zones existing there prior to the government's order eliminating them, has been postponed from September 2 to September 5.

Assemblyman Walter Eden, who was a member of the committee of the Associated Chambers of Commerce at Glendale on the company's petition for an increase in rates in this county, had been chosen to represent Orange county at the hearing September 2.

He made every effort to secure transportation to San Francisco to attend the hearing scheduled for September 2, but found reservations taken up to September 6. Secretary Metzgar advised the commission that the local representative would not be able to attend, and suggested that if the hearing was postponed he be advised.

Today Metzgar received a telegram advising of the postponement. Orange county is deeply interested in the matter of free tolls and it was deemed advisable to have a representative present when the Glendale petition came up.

NEBRASKANS FEED ON SWEET CORN AT PARK

Sweet corn "as she are in Nebraska," was the piece de resistance yesterday at the basket picnic of former residents of Hamilton county, Nebraska, held at Orange County Park.

Some of the former residents of that county who now reside in Southern California, without organization, but by mutual agreement, meet once every year and revive incidents of their lives in that county as they munch sweet corn.

city were the "big guns" in yesterday's bombardment, and 130 former Hamilton county residents responded to the call for a corn feed. They came from Los Angeles, Long Beach and different parts of Orange county.

The corn was good—this was conceded by the Nebraskans—and some there were even who would admit that the Orange county grown corn was superior to that of their former county.

The corn was cooked at the park and there was some real coffee to add to the feed, to say nothing of many other good things found in lunch baskets. There was no program and the deserters from Nebraska just whiled away the hours with good old family chats.

RURAL SCHOOLS CONSOLIDATION DISCUSSED

Superintendent Mitchell Gives
Address at Yosemite Conclave

Consolidation of schools in rural districts was the subject of an address delivered by R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools, at the convention of city and county school superintendents held at Yosemite.

Benefits of such consolidations were pointed out by Superintendent Mitchell. He stated that in cases where schools have been consolidated it was found that both teachers and students benefited, in that instructors had fewer classes to teach and that schools were able materially to increase their study courses, giving the students opportunity for a greater variety of studies than were possible in small and comparatively isolated schools. Consolidation was being carried out with remarkable success in the east and in various counties in California, Mitchell stated.

Convention Success
The Yosemite convention, which was also attended by J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools, who gave an address of Junior Red Cross work in connection with schools, was a success in every way, Mitchell stated.

All of the addresses and papers read at the convention were by California men, no school superintendents from other states being on the program. The result was, according to Mitchell, that the program was essentially practical and every superintendent benefited by the experiences related by the others.

The principal topics of discussion were the new school laws, Mitchell stated. Speaking of the convention, Mitchell said:

Talks on New Laws
"Superintendent Mark Keppel of Los Angeles county gave an able address in regard to the new school laws, and Dr. Edward R. Snyder, state commissioner of vocational education, gave a thorough and interesting explanation of the laws, taking as his topic, 'The New Compulsory Education Laws.' He explained the purpose as providing a practical education for every boy and girl in the state, compelling them to remain in school until the age of 16 and providing for pre-vocational and vocational courses to prepare them for greater efficiency as wage earners and making them of more value to society and the complainted that 'part-time' schools are provided under the new law for persons between the ages of 18 and 21 who are unable to either read or write, and stated that the new laws, if strictly enforced, should make California the lowest state in the Union in per cent of illiteracy and the highest in economic efficiency."

Farm Work
One session of the convention was devoted to a discussion of the introduction of agricultural education in the schools, and along this line B. P. Crandall, superintendent of schools at San Bernardino, was on the program for an address on the subject, "Agricultural Extension Work in Rural Communities." The address was based on his experiences in the Holtville schools, where he introduced agricultural courses to the advantage of both the pupils and the community.

The intermediate school was a subject given much time and discussion at the convention, with a result that a decision was reached that there are two general lines to work along in solving the intermediate school problem, one of which is to cut the curriculum to standard subjects for strict high school preparation, and taking up departmental seventh and eighth grade work; the other plan being to add a wide range of pre-vocational subjects for both boys and girls, giving them opportunity to gain a large fund of knowledge along industrial lines, this plan being of its best advantage in schools where a comparatively small per cent of the pupils continue to high school and college.

TRADES GRAY MARE FOR 2 GALLONS OF LIQUOR

DANVILLE, Va., Aug. 28.—Corn liquor, such as is made at the mountain still, has won a new market value, an old gray mare having been traded for two gallons of the brew a few days ago.

This fact was revealed in the trial of Thomas Hartman and Bud Slate, countrymen who were arrested while they were making a liquor cache. The trial developed the fact that Hartman traded the old family mare for two gallon jugs filled with "raw" liquor.

He made a confession to Mrs. Hartman, and when she heard of the trade she threatened to expose the entire transaction to the police unless the steed was returned to the lot. This was promptly done, but the police got wind of the bargain. They followed the men and caught Hartman and Slate "with the goods."

The Early Mistake.
"Didn't Eve ask Adam to eat the apple, thereby bringing sorrow to the human race?"

"Yes," said the woman with snappy eyes. "And I'll bet many's the time Eve wished that instead of inviting him to have something to eat she had asked him to carry in wood or mend the roof or something he'd be sure to refuse."—Washington Star.

Mitchell Asks Schools Of County to Postpone Opening Until Sept. 15

BECAUSE of two legal holidays coming during the first two weeks in September, R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools, is asking that heads of grammar schools throughout the county defer opening the school term until September 15. In the majority of instances, Superintendent Mitchell states, county grammar schools had been planning on opening the school year on September 15, but the heads of several schools had decided upon September 8 as the opening date.

In view of the two legal holidays, Labor Day, on Monday, September 1, and Admission Day, on September 9, it is probable that schools which had decided on the earlier date will postpone their opening until September 15.

Superintendent Mitchell estimates that the attendance in both grammar and high schools throughout the county will be approximately 400 more than during last year's school season.

Two reasons were cited by Superintendent Mitchell for the expected increase in attendance, namely, the ending of the war, for which reason fewer pupils will be kept out of school for war work, and the new state law requiring children to attend school until they reach the age of 16, instead of 15, as formerly. The new law requires a pupil under 16 to continue in school regardless of whether he has completed his grammar course. Should he be under 16 years of age, and through with the grammar grades, he must attend high school.

Trustees Cleaning House
School trustees of various districts in the county are now at work cleaning up school buildings preparatory to the opening of the fall term. Windows are being washed, desks varnished, floors oiled and the rooms otherwise being put in shape.

Arrangements are being made for the holding of two teachers' institutes

Huntington Beach, on October 3, during the Orange County Fair. There will be an exhibit of work of students of the various county schools, and Superintendent Mitchell is planning on the teachers attending the institute visiting the various agricultural and industrial exhibits at the fair as there are numbers of teachers. Mitchell states, who are unacquainted with the varied resources of the county.

Will C. Wood, state superintendent of public instruction, of Sacramento, will be present at the institute, Mitchell having made arrangements with him while at the county superintendents' meeting at Yosemite. Another speaker who will probably be present is Dr. Kriebel of Stanford, who is scheduled to deliver an address on world problems.

Teacher Scarcity Felt
There is a scarcity of school teachers this year, according to Mitchell. In Orange county there are still four or five unfilled vacancies. This condition exists, Mitchell states, in spite of the fact that there has been a material advance in teachers' salaries.

The county board of education has prepared a new study course for use during the coming school year. This course, in booklet form, is now ready for distribution. Mitchell states, and may be had upon application at his office.

STOCKING LIZZIE IS CAUGHT WITH BOOZE

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 28.—The Homestead police arrested what they termed the first "stocking legger" in the State the other night when they picked up Clara Hobson on a charge of purveying booze to the thirsty of that industrial centre.

The amplitude of the Hobson woman's limbs attracted the attention of Patrolman McGuire and held it. Instead of being molded on lines or curves, Miss Hobson's nether limbs seemed to have been built for a study in angles.

Never taking his eye off the woman the official finally saw her slip into a dark doorway and emerge with a bottle of liquor, which she passed to a pedestrian, receiving a bill in return. Arrested, the prisoner had twelve half pints hidden in her hose.

RETURN OF TROOPS URGED BY JOHNSON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Senator Johnson, Republican, California, in a statement yesterday urged the immediate return of American troops from abroad and declared that the time has arrived when this country should "get out of the whole mess and be just American" again. Asserting that American boys were fighting an "undeclared and undisclosed war in Siberia," that others were to be sent to Silesia, while American troops had been "cruelly treated in Dalmatia," and still others were to remain upon the Rhine for fifteen years, Senator Johnson said:

"All of this was ordered in secret, not in the United States, but in Paris, where we had one vote out of five,

"American mothers and fathers can see in these daily occurrences the set purpose to involve us in quarrels of which we know nothing and which are not at all our concern, and by involving us, make us pay the price in money and in men."

FOR ASSEMBLY HALL

Next Tuesday Santa Ana High School district is to vote upon a proposal for bonds for an assembly hall for the high school. This assembly hall is needed for high school purposes. Without it, the school is not properly equipped and cannot do as good work as it can with it. In this building the entire school can be brought together for addresses by visiting speakers, for school exercises, for instruction from school authorities, and for school gatherings of all sorts.

An urgent request for the assembly hall was made by the Alumni Association of the high school. The affairs of the Alumni Association are handled by well known citizens of the city, who are interested not only as former students of the high school, but also as business men and residents of the city. Many of them have children in the city schools. At a meeting of over 250 of the alumni, present accommodations at the high school for assemblies were declared to be a "lamentable joke," a "disgrace to the community" and "a damper to our educational facilities." A motion to ask the school board to provide an assembly hall adequate to the need of the schools was made by an alumnus who is cashier of a Santa Ana bank, and was carried unanimously.

And the alumni are right about it. Santa Ana can't lay claim to providing its pupils with first-class educational advantages while it endeavors to get along with makeshifts in its schools. A temporary structure was built simply for the reason that the need of an assembly place was so great that the school authorities felt that they must have some meeting place for the students. Money for the construction of an assembly hall was not then at hand. With what money there was available, a temporary structure was provided. The former school board did the best it could under the circumstances, and felt heartily ashamed of the fact that it could do no more.

The structure has outlasted its usefulness. Unheated, it is too cold for use in winter months. A mere shell, it is too warm for use in the warmer months of the school year. It is a menace to health, and the fact that it is a firetrap is reason enough to condemn it. Its knotholes, its leaky roof, its creaking, squeaking floors, and its wobbly walls—it's a shame to compare it to a good barn.

This high school assembly hall should not be confused with a municipal auditorium. It is to be built into and become a part of the main building of the high school, and will have its entrance through the corridors of the main building of the high school. That will save the expense of building a front for the building, and the school district will therefore get a great deal more for its money than it would if a separate building was attempted. The assembly hall will be located where it can be of the greatest use to the high school, and if located elsewhere it could not be used for those brief, frequent gatherings for school announcements that will be the main factor in its usefulness. The school district on Tuesday is to be given an opportunity to provide money for the building of an assembly hall that will be a credit to the high school and adequate to its needs.

THEIR TRUE VALUE

Many years from now the grizzled veteran who went to war in 1917-1918, will show to his grandchildren a beautiful bronze medal, a souvenir of the appreciation of the things he did and of the further sacrifices he was willing to make in the greatest of wars.

Beginning on September 9, the day that the medal is to be presented to him by representatives of the people of Orange county, this medal will have an increasing value. It will not be an increasing money value. It will be a value nearer and dearer than money can ever be. It will be the value that comes from old association, from the mellowing of love of country, that undefinable sentimental value that cannot be measured in coin nor yet described in words.

It will be a keepsake. And some of the dearest things that people have are keepsakes, and some of the most highly-prized possessions in any family are those that were keepsakes of father or mother, or grandfather, or grandmother.

It is the sentiment of the occasion that is going to make the great gift.

ering at Orange County Park on September 9 a memorable occasion. On that day in unison the people of Orange county are to express through a demonstration long planned something of the things they have long desired to express.

We can't tell of the great grief we all feel for the loss of brave lads, whose lives went out while in the service of the flag. Our throats have choked up and our eyes have filled with tears, and they will again as we think of those loved boys.

We can't tell of the heart-filling joy that has come to us as the boys have come home. Our smiles and our hand-grips have been given to individuals as we have met them, but we want now, all of us together, to say to all of them the things that we have said to those boys we have been fortunate enough to know.

And these medals that are to be given are tokens of those tears and those smiles, tokens of heartaches that came while war was on, tokens of the deep channels of appreciation that flow through human emotions—tokens, not of today so much, but of the troubled yesterdays and the peace of distant tomorrows, tokens that shall be entwined with the vines of love and memory.

LESSONS OF HISTORY

When Marat and Danton and Robespierre erected a statue of the Goddess of Reason in Paris, there followed looted castles and burned villages, and the gutters of the city ran red with human blood. A fountain now flashes its music in the center of the Place de la Concorde, where once the guillotine stood, and of it Chateaubriand said, "All the waters of the world will not wash out the blood stains of this place."

Eighty years later when the Anarchists murdered the good Archbishop of Paris, and dragged his body through the streets, and with the torch of the petroleuse fired convents and hospitals, France was saved to civilization only by her foes.

GROWING STRONGER

Every additional week that the country remains dry adds that much strength to the permanency of the dry cause. Cities that have fancied that they would melt away have found that instead of having moved toward the vanishing point they are better off than even the driest thought likely. The number of arrests in all of the large cities has decreased, and police officers everywhere say that no saloons means less for officers and criminal courts to do.

The bulwark of the wet cause has always been centered in the business itself. That is, it was the booze manufacturers, the saloon owners and employees and not the drinkers who furnished the campaign funds and most of the enthusiasm whenever the question of wet or dry was brought to a vote. Vast numbers of men who were closely allied to the booze business have gone into other lines of work. They have not the same interest in fighting the wet cause that they did before July 1. The more firmly they become fixed in their new businesses and new jobs, the further they get away from their anxiety to preserve the liquor traffic. In spite of themselves they are becoming reconciled to the new conditions, and as they become reconciled they cease agitation. It will not be long before they, too, will admit that the country is far better off without booze than it ever was with booze.

Half Truths

From time to time, in reply to inquiries, given either in good faith or otherwise, various public men and newspapers reply that Great Britain has six votes under the covenant of the league of nations to the single vote of the United States.

This is one of those dangerous half truths more deadly in its effects than a downright falsehood.

In the assembly of the league, which has no executive functions, unless called upon by the council of the league to exercise such power, Great Britain has six votes and the United States only has one, but that one vote of the United States can nullify any action of the assembly, no matter if the six British votes are voted solidly with the other members of the league.

In the council, the actual seat of the authority of the league, Great Britain and the United States each have one vote on a par with Greece and Brazil. This vote must also be unanimous before any action can be taken, except in an advisory manner. We ask our readers not to be misled by this form of mendacity, or, to be more charitable, plain ignorance. Read the covenant of the league in connection with the treaty of peace. Your congressman will be glad to supply you with a copy. You will find the covenant, like all great state papers, a comparatively simple document. The treaty is a complicated affair, but not more so than one would expect from the multifarious problems with which it was compelled to deal.

As a matter of fact, the opponents of the covenant, being oppressed with the necessity of supporting a very weak case, have felt compelled to resort to all of the arts of the stupid distortionists in their efforts to read into that document many faults which it does not contain.

The German mark, which usually passed for 25 cents American money, was quoted this morning at 614 cent. This is obviously a great mark down. —Boston Transcript.

The Bridge

Business Propaganda

(From the Insurance Field)

Nothing is more notable in this new era of business than the tendency of advertising. The signing of the armistice turned every business head to preparations for peace and the signing of the peace treaty by Germany has finally opened the way for all the energies to be applied. It seems to be an instinct of business to declare itself. Not to announce yourself is to remain unannounced; not to proclaim wares is to sell none; not to continue to announce and proclaim is to be forgotten.

Ever since advertising was developed into an art based upon the science of publicity it has come to be recognized that those who apply it best have achieved the widest success. It is this fact which accounts undoubtedly for the remarkable flood of advertising noticeable in all classes of publications. It has been remarked that during the war German houses kept their advertising in all neutral papers, even though goods were not deliverable. Now that the bars are down the Germans are seeking their customers at once and against this the world is replying with counter propositions.

Advertising is business propaganda and propaganda has been the business of Europe and America for nearly five years. Advertising is power and profit.

Worth While Verses

HAUNTED

(Aline Kilmer (Mrs. Joyce Kilmer) has issued a book of poetry, "Candles That Burn." Her little daughter, Rose, died a few years ago, and her husband died on the battlefield. From her book is this poem):

"Your dying lips were proud and sweet
And when you turned your face away
Against the pillow where you lay
My heart was broken at your feet.
O quivering lips that would be gay,
What was it that you tried to say?
There was a thing you would have said
There was a word you never spoke;
It rose between us by your bed.
There came a look of hurt surprise
In your unfathomable eyes,
And then it was that my heart broke.

"So now wherever I may turn
I see your wistful, following eyes;
I see that anguished question burn
On lips that laugh in Paradise.
If I had been in your dear place
You never would have failed me so!
You always read upon my face
Thoughts that myself could scarcely know.
Oh, how I scorned my fettered soul
Because it could not leap the space
That held me from your lovely goal!

"How many a trivial little word
And things you said to me apart
Strange sayings no one else has heard,
I keep safe buried in my heart;
But the last thing you would have said,
I shall not know it; you are dead."

A visitor at the capitol was accompanied by his small son. The little boy watched from the gallery when the house came to order. "Why did the minister pray for all those men, papa," he questioned. "He didn't. He looked 'em over, and prayed for the country," was the answer. —Blighty, London.

VERY DISTANT.

EASILY HIDDEN.

It was evident there had been an accident. A lady on deck rushed to the captain of the ship and inquired in anxious tones what was the matter. "The fact is, madam, that we've broken our rudder," the captain replied. "Oh, is that all?" said the lady. "As the rudder is mostly under water I expect no one will notice it." —Blighty, London.

OBSERVATIONS

There is no progress without great rag-chewing.

Sometimes you have to go outside to get inside information.

It's a case of still life when the speak-easy is run all on the quiet.

A reactionary is a pompous old party who thinks the Ship of State will go on the rocks three seconds after the captain converses with a laboring man concerning her course.

Arthur Henderson, British labor leader, thinks the remains of civilization may be annihilated before winter. Buck up, Arthur. If the Huns couldn't do it, professional agitators can't.

MOTOR VACATION.

"Now how is it?"
"Now she has one dress and we go to seven hotels." —Louisville Courier-Journal.

Stomach Trouble

There are many who should be greatly encouraged to know that stomach troubles can be cured. Mrs. T. E. Hullinger, Mansfield, Ohio, was sick for three months with stomach trouble and constipation. She saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and decided to try them. Let her tell it. "The first dose did me more good than all of the medicine I had previously taken and by taking two bottles of the tablets I was positively cured." —Adv.

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

Locked doors are narrow-minded things. Suspicious natures they reveal — If all the doors were opened wide The thieves might be too proud to steal.

"REGISTER"-ETTES

Those who kill time, says Life, eventually mourn the corpse.

"Why all the smile, Jones?" "Forgot what the wife told me to get down town—" "Well, call her up." "I did, but she forgot what she told me not to forget."

"Before I unchain the dog, answer me this: Are you one of these here Bolsheviks?" "No, madam; I'm just a pain hobo or bum." "In that case, here's a piece of pie."

While auntie arranged the pantry shelves her little niece handled the spice boxes and called each spice by name. Presently she said, "Auntie, I can read." "Can you, dear?" answered auntie. "Yes, auntie," came the reply. "But I don't read like you do. I read by the smell."

"I want a set of golf clubs," said the worried looking man, reported in the Birmingham Age-Herald. "Certainly," answered the dealer in sporting goods. "By the way, I believe you bought a set of clubs from us yesterday." "So I did. I'm determined to learn how to play that infernal game if I break every golf stick in town."

BLIND WAR HERO 8294 STUDENTS NOW ARMATURE ENROLLED AT UNIVERSITY WINDER

Former Blacksmith Trains Increase of 52 Per Cent. For Employment and Over Figures at This Time Last Year Earns $4 a Day

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—In war or in civilian life, few of us are destined to wear a croix de guerre, that is, the outward insignia; still there are a large number of people who, though never awarded these much sought distinctions, yet have them stamped indelibly on their characters. Such a man is August Marten.

He served as a first class blacksmith on board a sacrifice ship. On the first expedition the ship was sent out to locate mines. The tide was unusually high and they sailed over them. Their second undertaking was to locate a submarine base in Heligoland. In mid-ocean the orders were countermanded and again they reached port safely. Their third venture was in the capacity of a rescue ship. Off the coast of France an explosion occurred, wrecking the ship. A hot spark lodged in Marten's left eye, causing total blindness and affecting the right eye. The shock of the explosion impaired his hearing and generally affected his nervous system.

The following eight months were spent in a hospital. Previous to enlistment he was a blacksmith and expert toolmaker. According to his former employer, "he drew the highest wages ever paid a blacksmith in this mining camp." Now he could not determine welding heat, tempering colors, nor perform other necessary functions in that occupation. But he was possessed of a fine physique and mechanical ability. Was he to be cast upon the waste pile of social dependents?

Just before his discharge from the naval hospital, he was informed of the provisions of the rehabilitation act. Upon his arrival in Seattle, he came to the federal board office. All possibilities were considered. The problem resolved itself into this: An earnest, willing worker, an unusual degree of mechanical ability, handicapped with poor vision and hearing, with a keen interest in electricity. With the concurrence of the eye specialist, Marten was recommended for a course in the electrical power plant of the City Light and Power company of Seattle, where he made exceptional fine progress. He put his whole soul into his work—talked and lived electricity.

Upon completion of his training he was directed to the placement department of the federal board. A position was found for him in Seattle. He writes us: "I went right into high class work with this firm and so far I have handled it good." He is winding armatures at $4 per day.

WINE GRAPES BRING PROFITABLE PRICES

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 28.—California wine grape growers, instead of facing ruin as the result of nation wide prohibition, are this year selling their grapes for as much as, and in some instances more, than in past years, according to C. B. Bills, president of the Pioneer Fruit Exchange, Sacramento. Bills said:

"Wine grapes are selling at good prices in California this year. Armour has had agents working in the state for some time buying all the wine grapes they could get hold of. The grapes will be shipped East and made into grape juice and non-alcoholic wines.

"The grape growers, instead of facing ruin, as has been predicted, really appear to be on the eve of great prosperity.

"The fact that Armour is buying wine grapes indicates that the grape juice industry is on a sound basis and that there is a demand for wine grapes for this purpose. The wine grape growers are assured of a steady market and they will find, I am sure, a profitable market for all their grapes."

Discussing the deciduous fruit crop, Bills said this season's crop was larger in many respects, than in past years, and that the growers are securing a larger net return than ever before.

High cost of labor, supplies and operation of orchard and cannery will mean higher prices for canned fruit, said Bills. He added that it is "more than possible" that canned peaches, as an example, may retail for as much as 60 cents the can next winter.

A reduction in the cost of labor, supplies and marketing must come if prices are not to raise, he said.

DIDN'T BREAK WITH WILSON, SAYS HOUSE

LONDON, Aug. 28.—With regard to a report that a break had occurred in relations with President Wilson, Col. E. M. House today authorized the United Press to quote him as follows: "So far as I know there is no truth in the report. If there has been any change in the relations between the president and myself, I am not aware of it."

Colonel House pointed out that the president had appointed him to serve on the allied mandate commission, which will meet here again next year. It is learned that Colonel House declined to go to Paris to sign the Austrian treaty because he was not certain whether he would be free to go when the treaty was ready and not because he did not desire to sign the document.

And there are members of Congress who would be bitterly opposed to Heaven if members of the other political party declared themselves in favor of it.

BERKELEY, Aug. 28.—Eight thousand two hundred and ninety-four students are now attending the University of California, figures from the recorder's office at the university today showed. Of this number 774 are registered in the graduate division, and 7520 are taking undergraduate work. This is an increase of 52 per cent over figures on the corresponding day of last year, which showed a total of 5458 students, of whom 547 were graduate and 4911 undergraduate students.

Returns from the recorder's office Friday, August 15, the first day of registration, showed an increase of 46 per cent over 1918, there being enrolled 2670 students as against 1823. These were new students or students who returned to the University of California after leave of absence. Saturday, August 16, the number of students enrolled increased to 3910. On that day recorder of the faculties announced that he expected a total of 6500 to be reached.

The first day on which old undergraduate and graduate students enrolled, Monday, August 18, 3952 men and women registered, or more than the combined registration of the preceding Friday and Saturday. The total was now 7862. The 8000 mark when the latest figures showed that was passed on Tuesday, August 19, 8027 students had registered. The previous highest enrollment of 5714 in 1916 was topped by 2313 or nearly 50 per cent.

One hundred and forty-four more students enrolled Wednesday, August 20, bringing up the figure to 8171, and with the addition of 65 students on Thursday, August 21, the number stood at 8236, an increase of 52 per cent over the figures of 1918, which were 5397. The same percentage stood on Friday, when with the added registration of 58 more students, the final figures showed that 8294 students are now attending the University. Of this number, 774 are graduate students, and 7520 are undergraduate students.

Recorder James Sutton expects that students will continue to register during the next week, so that this figure is by no means final.

VIENNA CEMETERY FAMED FOR GATES

In the older European cities one is apt to revel in ancient architecture, but the Central Cemetery in Austria's capital, while comparatively modern, is well worth visiting. With the exception of the Campa Santo in Genoa, this cemetery is rated as perhaps the finest in the world, being especially known for three gates.

The first gate affords admission to the Jewish section, which was opened as late as 1902, while the third gate leads into the Protestant quarter. The middle entrance, exclusively set aside for the Roman Catholics, is the main one, and because of its central location gives the cemetery its name.

The pompous portals are modern in architecture and two accompanying pieces of artistic workmanship are in obelisk form. Between the two small or white stone columns are the massive doors of iron in which the marble images are set.

In the center of these dwarf obelisks are two Egyptian statues leaning against a heavy portal, on which their god of worship rests, and below this is a richly carved altar bearing crown and jewels. A ponderous square slab of stone seems to hold this Egyptian scene in its place, beneath which is a tableau of four weary men stretching out their hand sin sorrow. Directly opposite, under the columns on the west wing, are small arches beautifully carved with unique floral designs and harps.

Within the stately walls all is magnificent. In the center is a large marble vault, built in the form of a small chapel, with heads and busts of virgin saints. Six openly carved windows, set on petit columns, bring to view a tremendous pillow, with edges heavily chased, and resting upon it are four sleeping angels. A high dome is above them, and at the top a messenger of heaven stands triumphant as if sounding a trumpet. —Chicago Tribune.

OFFICE SUNSHINE

The blonde stenog is but a cog in office work; And yet, my boy, a thing of joy To every clerk.

Her pleasant smile is well worth while; They all admit; She has no pet—each fellow gets A share in it.

The grouchy boss is at a loss To call her down; Sometimes unbends and condescends To drop his frown.

The blonde stenog is but a cog in the machine; Yet breaks each day in cheerful way

The dull routine.

To Tell Experiences

A social will be given Friday evening, August 23, in the United Brethren church, corner of Shelton and Third streets. There will be an interesting program of music and recitations. Grover Murphy and Henry Murphy, who have just returned from France, will give an address on "Experiences at the Front."

A free will offering will be taken at the door. Refreshments will be served.

Vacationing at Laguna

San Bernardino Sun: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Goodell are taking a coast outing at Laguna Beach, a favorite resort of both. The well known attorney is enjoying the anglers' sport, and both are enthusiastically over the restful life at the picturesque seaside place nestled in the hills of Southern Orange county.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Surr, Miss Elizabeth Surr and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Surr are also visitors this week at Laguna and are guests at Honey-suckle Lodge on the Cliffs.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Flack and children are having a delightful time at Laguna in the second week of their outing.

Entertainers Sewing Club

Mrs. Horace Fine was hostess yesterday afternoon to the sewing club of which she is a member. Her home with zinnias and a pleasant afternoon on North Broadway was brightened with social chat and needlework. A light lunch was served late in the afternoon.

A visit from two Good Shepherd Sisters from San Antonio, Texas, was enjoyed. They told of the good work they are doing in their home for wayward girls.

Those present were Meses. J. C. Candebat of Huntington Beach, F. J. Wagner, Charles Bevis, George W. Young, John Rudolph, E. B. Collier, Olive Lopez, Misses Leatha Collier, Marie Rudolph, Margaret and Little George Young, Charlotte and Cleora Fine.

Women's Council Work

That the Orange county organizations have a membership large enough to allow the appointment of more than eleven representatives to the Women's Legislative Council from the Federation of Women's Clubs and Congress of Mothers is very gratifying evidence of the growth of the women into a "thinking public," and when one thinks of the council as an organization composed of ninety thousand members, it is even more impressive.

The council is made up of representatives from the Congress of Mothers, the State Federation of Women's Clubs (which includes the P. T. A.), the W. C. T. U. and a large number of smaller organizations, and the whole is divided into districts. The fourth district includes Orange county and representatives of the P. T. A. are Mrs. G. H. Goodale of Anaheim, president of the Orange County P. T. A.; Mrs. James H. Pickering of Brea, and Mrs. J. N. Anderson of Santa Ana.

The Santa Ana Ebells is represented by four members, Fullerton by two and the Placentia Round Table has one, these belong as individual clubs with representatives chosen in proportion to their membership. Mrs.

A. J. Lawton is treasurer of the council, and is a candidate for president of the Council.

The work of the council will follow along the lines of its previous occupation.

Last year they succeeded in putting through two very good measures, the farm for delinquent women and the increased funds for elementary schools. The third, the community property bill, was held up, but work is to be continued on it very soon—probably immediately following the election of officers in October; general activities among the clubs will not begin until near that time. The association holds its meetings alternately between San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The manner in which the measures are chosen for legislation is very democratic. Any organization, that is a member of the council, is entitled to send in any bill it thinks worthy. The best eight are selected from these and they in turn are referred back to the different organizations for a referendum vote and the three to receive the highest are presented before the legislature by the president of the council, Mrs. Carter.

The accomplishments of the association have been many and varied and its backing of civic problems is evidenced in every city of the state.

At Joplin's Ranch

Miss Beatrice Willbur, who is taking a two weeks' vacation from her work, left this morning, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sawyer and Charles Belven for Joplin's ranch, where they will remain until Monday evening.

Family Reunion

Fried chicken and pressed chicken sandwiches featured the "eats" at a family reunion of the Bridgford and Thomas families at Balboa last night. The relatives, about thirty of them, gathered at the beach for the evening, the affair being in the nature of a compliment to Kenneth Bridgford and family, who are here from Victoria Island, Cal., upon a visit.

All the good things which usually accompany a chicken dinner, were on the menu and while the happy ones were the guests, the content of the picnic baskets, the older members of the party grew reminiscent and recounted days of yore.

The dinner was spread on one of the tables near the Balboa bath house and following the lunch the evening was passed in various ways.

Those composing the party were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas, daughters, Gladys and Semone, and son, Eugene; Mr. and Mrs. John Wallace, Arlesia; Mr. and Mrs. John Mayes, Placentia; Mr. and Mrs. Otis Bridgford, J. R. Bridgford; Mr. and Mrs. John Gould and children, Jack and Howard; Mr. and Mrs. John Deardoff, Kenneth Bridgford, wife and baby, Dr. C. E. Price, wife and two sons, Kenneth and Ray; Mr. and Mrs. Grover Murdoch and children, Scott and Mary, Placentia.

Surprise Given

A surprise was given Mr. and Mrs. George Starbuck, who are leaving for their former home in Glendale the last of the week, by members of the county surveyor's office at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McBride last evening.

An informal evening of visiting and music was enjoyed and light refreshments served to Messrs. and Mesdames George Starbuck, J. L. McBride, J. D. Lockwood, F. L. Gibbs, H. G. Matthews, Mrs. Emilie Eells, Miss Grace Hall, Messrs. Charles Wollaston, Chester Stearns, R. L. Loucks and Warren Hilliard.

Successful Sale

The girls of the Rainbow Circle of the First Christian church are adding to their bank account in lumps. Last evening they cleared $13.50 by selling ice cream at the band concert, and with the amount taken in from last week's sale, a very comfortable little nest egg is made, which egg is to be used in social welfare work.

Kansas Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ellis have as their guests Mrs. Lydia Tilton and son, Albert Tilton, of Kansas City, Missouri, who are spending a year in California. Last evening they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Runyan at dinner and will go with them to Long Beach this afternoon. This morning they had a few rounds of golf at the Country Club.

Eightieth Birthday

Although business engagements necessitated an early departure of the guests, the eightieth birthday of Mrs. C. C. Barnum on Fairhaven avenue, could not pass unnoticed, so just before noon yesterday she was surprised by the arrival of a number of her friends and relatives who showered her with best wishes and congratulations.

The uninvited guests took with them a well filled picnic basket and an informal luncheon was spread with places for the honor guest, Mrs. C. C. Barnum, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Henrickson and daughter Esther, Mrs. L. E. Case, Mrs. Barber and daughter Katherine, from San Diego, Mr. and Mrs. Willus Barnum and Miss Elizabeth Jordan.

Day at the Beach

A day at the beach and picnic luncheon at noon was enjoyed by the Unitarian Woman's Alliance, when Mrs. George Wright was hostess to the members at her Newport cottage yesterday.

The ladies went down early in the morning, enjoying a long day of Mrs. Wright's hospitality and pleasures of the beach. The passenger aeroplane located near by held an interesting place in the day. Late in the afternoon the hostess served cooling refreshments to her guests.

Reception to Son and Bride

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Warren of 814 Parton street gave a reception last evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Will Warren, who were recently married. About 50 friends and acquaintances of the young couple were present to wish them much joy and happiness, many of these young people meeting together for the first time in several years, and it was a happy reunion for all.

The rooms were decorated with large baskets of bright colored zinnias, and the lawn was lighted with electric lights, part of the evening being enjoyed out of doors.

Miss Mary Henderson sang several numbers, with Harry Warner as accompanist. Victrola music was also played during the evening. Delicious brick ice cream and cake were served. Misses Grace Patterson, Grace White, Jennie White, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. LeRoy Warren assisting in serving.

The invited guests from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Layton, Peris; Miss Margaret Durfee, Holly-wood; Miss Ella McLean, Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Bockenoegen, Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Beaumont, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Schweitzer, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Harvey, Miss Grace Patterson, Los Angeles; Miss Thelma Price, Huntington Beach; Miss Lillian Pirie, Orange.

Class Picnic

The members of the Westminster Guild, a missionary society of young ladies of the First Presbyterian church, went to West Newport last evening for a dip in the ocean, and wiener bake. About thirty were present.

For Class Teacher

Following her return from a vacation spent in Bear Valley, Mrs. Chas. Hosea, teacher of the "Do Your Best" class of the First Baptist church, was given a warm welcome home last evening when Miss Elizabeth Shepherd entertained the members of the class in her honor.

The girls were very glad to have with them Mrs. Binard of Orange, who substituted for Mrs. Hosea during her absence.

Discussion of the plans for the coming year occupied a large part of the evening, and later tempting refreshments were served by the hostess. Present were the honor guests, Mrs. Charles Hosea, Mrs. Binard and little daughter and Misses Mildred Fox, Kathleen Owens, Mildred Marchant, Carol Van Cleave, Irene Cravath, Esther Holbrook and the hostess, Miss Shepherd.

Jolly Widows Give Program

There are lots of merry widows in the Torosa Rebekah Lodge, and last evening at the regular meeting with about seventy-five present, they gave a delightful program of songs and readings, greatly pleasing their audience.

It was announced that the ice cream lawn social planned for August 29 had been postponed.

At the next meeting a committee from the Odd Fellows will be in charge of the celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of the founding of Rebekahism.

A benefit dance will be given by Torosa on September 10th for the new orphan's home.

The Noble Grand requested all members of the degree staff to gather at 7:30 o'clock next Saturday evening for practice.

Following the business meeting, delicious watermelon was served in the banquet room, beautiful crepe myrtle being used for table decoration.

A Fortune's Foundation

A fortune's foundation is laid in the days of business training. Start right, keep at it, and the result is certain.

We help lay the foundation for future fortune—train you to work accurately, rapidly, understandingly in all business branches.

Then we help you to put in the corner stone of your success by placing you in the best position you are competent to fill; after which we stand constantly behind you while you faithfully work your way toward the top.

The call for really good stenographers and bookkeepers is never supplied. We turn away calls for help every month. Even in another column of this paper you will find our ad for a bookkeeper which we were unable to supply this morning because we had no student ready to go out.

Every graduate of this school has a good position and many who have not graduated are holding such positions as we were able to recommend them for. Our students command the highest salaries and gain the highest eminence.

One young woman who graduated here a few years ago is today office manager for a leading packing company here at a salary of $125 per month; another is holding a court house position at $125 per month—her first position; a young man recently went direct from our bookkeeping department before graduating, to a position as bookkeeper for which we recommended him at a salary of $150 per month. Can graduates of long course colleges after four to six years' study show a better beginning record?

You can make the same success in business that scores of our graduates are making every day.

Let us start you, NOW.

Our new, illustrated catalogue, just off the press, will tell you how we lay the foundation.

LAXATIVE for Aged People

THE BANE of old age is constipation. The bowels become weak and unable to perform their functions without aid. For this purpose only the mildest and gentlest laxative should be used. The use of harsh cathartics aggravates the trouble and makes the constipation worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are a favorite with people of middle age and older on account of their gentle action.

BANKERS EXPECT UPHEAVAL IN COUNTRY FOR KINDLING FOREST FIRE

Capital Watchfully Waiting; Small Investors May Get Stung

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—A financial crisis is ahead of the country, according to leading bankers of New York, which may be one of the most serious situations the country has ever faced. There seems to be little doubt in the minds of Wall street leaders, judging from views expressed to a United Press reporter, but that the crisis will take a decidedly political turn. Financiers expect the radical elements among labor leaders to make a stand for communism.

While Wall street admits that there has been a perceptible slowing down on the part of moneyed interests, bankers say they are confident of the outcome of the issue between labor and capital.

"Capital is doing some watchful waiting," explained one vice president, connected with one of the largest institutions of the country, "many of our clients are apprehensive. Some are scared."

"Many wealthy interests no longer care about making money. For example, this morning a client was in here, a man who keeps a million dollar account with us. He had drawn no interest, and I asked him to wait a few minutes, so that we could pay him what was due."

"He didn't want it. 'What is the use?' he replied, 'more money is simply more taxes and more trouble. Never mind the interest.' Similar lack of interest in pushing developments is noticeable among most of the big interests."

The crisis will be a good tonic for the country in that it will be a show-down and will end agitation, say the bankers, who feel that the decision will be along the lines of "the democracy and freedom for which our forefathers fought," as one man put it.

Wall street is prepared for the crisis when it comes, and will be "nimble," to use the terms of finance. The bankers say the people of the country will be hardest hit, especially investors, if a drop in stocks comes. Wall street will not be especially hard hit, according to predictions, since it does not hold the majority of the securities, contrary to the popular idea.

The bankers point out that the public's idea of Wall street is a small group of banks which own practically all of the securities in the country. According to financiers, Wall street owns very few securities, and is merely an exchange for the savings banks of the country. Either the savings banks or small private investors own by far the larger part of American securities. The Pennsylvania Railroad, with its one hundred thousand stockholders, and the Santa Fe with its forty thousand owners, as well as many other large corporations, are cited as examples.

CONFLICTING FAITHS ARE FOUND IN SYRIA

Syria is the long strip of relatively habitable land lying between the Mediterranean Sea and the vast expanse of the Arabian Desert. The main line of communication between Asia and Africa, Syria has throughout its history been a meeting place and battle ground of nations, and today, as formerly, its racially mixed population is divided into many antagonistic factions, the dividing lines being mostly those of religion.

The majority of the population is Arab speaking and Arab feeling, however, mixed its blood, the bonds of Islam and Arabic culture having smoothed former differences away. But there are several minorities which hold themselves jealously apart. In the northwest, near the Mediterranean, rises the mountain mass of the Lebanon, inhabited largely by a Christian population, the Maronites, in spiritual communion with Rome and for centuries under the political protection of France. The Versailles peace conference has recognized France's right to obtain a sphere of influence in Syria. The disputed point is as to the size of the sphere. France wants to include virtually the whole of Syria, stretching inland beyond the famous city of Damascus. But the kingdom of Hedjaz claims the Syrian hinterland, and Britain favors this contention. The sympathies both of the Arab race and the Islamic world at large are with the Hedjaz in this dispute, and a French occupation of Damascus would be regarded with much Moslem ill will. In fact, most Mohammedans do not like the idea of any French sphere in Syria.

In the southern portion of the Syrian region lies the small but storied land of Palestine. Here clash the interests of three great religions—Christianity, Islam and Judaism—to all of which Palestine is holy ground. In the eyes of pious Moslems Jerusalem is, after Mecca, the most sacred spot on earth. A majority of the inhabitants of Palestine are Moslem Arab. Considerable Christian and Jewish minorities also exist, the Jews having greatly increased of late years owing to Zionist colonization. The Zionist dream of making Palestine a Jewish state awakens mixed feelings in Islam. Fundamentally Mohammedans do not like the idea, and Arab nationalists are also opposed, holding as they do that Palestine is today an Arab land. But many Moslems believe that a Jewish Palestine would be a bulwark against Christian penetration.—Lathrop Stoddard in World's Work.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—They have an owl in the Klamath country who the judge admits, is a crafty "bird," although he wears no feathers. Since he is an Indian, however, he may have worn feathers some time, at that.

His name is Corham Owl, and Judge Van Fleet in the United States court at Sacramento has just sentenced him to ninety days in the Klamath county jail for wilfully setting a forest fire in Perkins' gulch, near Happy Camp, on the Klamath national forest. The fire was set on August 11, 1918, or just about a year before he was brought up and tried.

Owl was out of work at that time. Not that that should worry an old Indian; but he had been out of work long enough so that he was also out of gambling money, as well as grub. This was a real calamity, which would make any Indian scratch his head and think hard. Uncle Sam, he was sure had lots of money. And uncle paid money for fighting forest fires.

Why wouldn't it be the quickest way to get the necessary "bucks" to touch off a little fire, since this country was in one of Uncle Sam's national forests, and then be on hand to help put it out?

Confessed to Brereton
How could anyone find out how it started? All this he afterward confessed to United States Forest Service Chief Investigator C. V. Brereton, through Interpreter Nicholas Effman, for this old Owl speaks no English.

The fire was a "roaring" success from the standpoint of fire and work. Fanned by a stiff breeze it raced up the mountain slope and was only extinguished by the most desperate kind of fire fighting. It did heavy damage to the government's standing timber and burned up entirely the little trees that would have made a second crop; it blackened and scarred the whole mountain side and destroyed its recreation value for many years, and it cost the government thousands of dollars—a hundred times the amount of money that Owl was paid—for fighting it. But why should that worry an Indian in need of a prime essential of life like gambling money? And as time went on and nothing seemed to happen on account of it, he ceased to fear that he would be found out.

Search Is Started
But he did not know that the arm of Uncle Sam was getting to be as long in catching fire setters as it always has been against those who tamper with the mails. Search by the forest rangers located the exact spot where the fire started and here they found tracks of a person with a dragging walk, wearing about a No. 5 shoe, who had zigzagged suspiciously through the brush without any apparent destination.

This was a starting clue; but it took long work for the government sleuths to build up the facts to a point which made positive proof—more cost to be charged to providing this Owl with a little gambling stake.

But the only way to stop wilful setting of fires is to make a certain such activity will be discovered and punished, no matter how long it takes. Finally, on July 12th of this year, Chief Investigator Brereton returned to that country with the case so thoroughly worked out that after it had been explained to the Indian, through the interpreter, what he was facing, he made a confession of the whole affair.

The jail sentence imposed upon him by the federal court will not pay for the damage which he did; but it is safe to say that both he and others who might otherwise be tempted to set fire to the woods will in future hesitate a long time before they again stir up the long arm of Uncle Sam.

U. S. Marines Find Plenty of Playing Time

Famous Scrappers See Much of World

Numerous Trades Open For Enlisted Men

GOODRICH NEWS BUREAU
LOS ANGELES

Education Is Given While the Government Is Being Served By Force.

Private Brown is surely holding some hand. The picture shown above illustrates one of the Marines' many pastimes. These men are pleased and contented with their life, for in the Marine Corps a young man's time is not all taken up by work. He has his hours for play and study. What more could any man want?

In the training of men for active duties Marines are called upon to perform, there are many trades open to the enlisted men. Besides serving their country, they are getting an education at the expense of the Government. The opportunity of travel is another feature, for the Marines are stationed in many parts of the world, to protect American people and their interests.

Then there are the large battleships now stationed for the first time on the West Coast of the United States. All have their Marine guard of over one hundred men and officers. These ships will go to all parts of the world, giving each man the opportunity of a lifetime to see foreign countries.

The spirit of adventure is there, for the Marines are the back-bone of the Navy's fighting forces on land and sea. They are the first to land and the last to leave. When you see the Globe, Eagle, and Anchor, the insignia worn by every Marine, you know he is one of Uncle Sam's famous scrappers. They play like they fight, in baseball or football. In fact in any game the Marines are always strong contenders for championship honors, playing the games like men for they are men among men.

FILMS LOWER HINDUS' OPINION OF MORALS

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Movies are lowering the Hindus' opinion of European women's morals, according to Miss Constance Bromley, an English girl, just returned from Calcutta, where she managed a large motion picture house for four years.

"They see the white wives on the screen in compromising situations, also women clothed in many garbs, on one occasion in a long film the heroine's main costume being a bathing suit, with the result that the natives get a low opinion of European morals," said Miss Bromley.

Miss Bromley declared the natives are great movie fans and that in Bombay alone there are fourteen picture houses.

BIG COPPERHEAD WITH TWO FEET IS KILLED

WAYNESBOROUGH, Pa., Aug. 28.—The direct descendant of the snake made famous by Eve in the Garden of Eden was found at Brownsville at the foot of the Blue mountains, south of Waynesborough, the other day, when a copperhead snake with two well formed feet was killed by Ira L. Kastzel. The reptile measured 2 feet, 4 inches and 3/4 inches in circumference. The feet are located about six inches from the tip of the tail. The legs are 3/4 of an inch in length, while the feet are round and about twice the size of the legs, and are covered with a hard gristle. The snake has been preserved in alcohol. Many persons swarm to the home of Kastzel to see the freak.

Government experts estimate California's apple crop this year will total 7,551,000 bushels; a gain of nearly a third over the 1918 crop.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—"Admiral" Kingston, star announcer at Cub park, has a plan whereby four regular announcers will be appointed, will travel from city to city and be assigned just as umpires are. INDOOR TEAM TO TAKE ON FAST COMPANY

Locals Will Play Y. M. C. A.
Club at Whittier This Evening

The Santa Ana indoor ball team is going to step out into fast company this evening and will go to Whittier to meet the Y. M. C. A. team of that city. The Y. M. C. A. club stands with a record of 100 per cent victories and is regarded as one of the fastest bunches in Southern California.

The Santa Ana team has just been organized, being picked from other clubs of the city, the best and fastest of the players being lined up for the fray tonight. The members have not had a great deal of practice in the present line-up, but Manager Fred Blauer and Captain J. H. Criddle are confident that their aggregation of ball tossers will give a good account of themselves, with possibility of coming home with the scalp of the undefeated champs at Whittier dangling at their belt.

F. Todd will go along as umpire and Manager Blauer will be there to look after his worthies. Following are members of the team, which will go over by automobile: Snow, Criddle, Heard, Cannon, Jug Walters, Anderson, Saubey, Perine, Duncan, Lalonde, Robertson, Hamerslough.

RUMORS OF NEW LEAGUE ARE STARTED

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Troubles over Carl Mays, when the Yankee pitcher was suspended by Ban Johnson and then taken into court through the action of his employers when they asked an injunction against Johnson, serves to bring strongly to mind the fact that the major league circuits have been on the verge of severe shakeups several times within the last few years. There have been plenty of rumors to the effect that the case of Mays would end in a split that would carry the Boston, New York and Chicago clubs out of the league and into a new organization that would carry enough weight to smash the American.

If there is any foundation for such a surmise it hasn't yet developed, but it is a fact that the question was given consideration.

Some years ago there were attempts to prove that St. Louis was not large enough to support two baseball clubs, and efforts were made to have its franchise transferred to Kansas City or Milwaukee. Only a brief time ago there was an effort to transfer the Washington franchise to Toronto, which was all set to bid for the American league club. Baltimore has tried many times to get back into baseball as a major league city, and has been prevented only by the fact that it never has shown itself equal to the task of caring for a big league club.

Now there are reports that Cincinnati will be made to house a new club, and that Toledo and Indianapolis have been given consideration. These reports hinge on the possibility of a split in the American, with the necessity for new cities to replace those shuffled off by the revolting club-owners.

So far as can be learned nothing definite has been done. The recalcitrant ones would much prefer to decapitate Ban Johnson and go on their peaceful way with a new president who would not act quite so much like a czar.

It has been contended that Detroit and Philadelphia would fall over themselves getting into the new outfit should the triumvirate of powerful clubs decide to break away.

FORGETS $570, SENDS CLOTHES TO CLEANER

LITTLE ROCK, Aug. 28.—Floyd Stockey of Oklahoma City, who recently received his honorable discharge from the army at Camp Pike, probably holds the forgetfulness championship of the entire American Army. He reported to the police last night that he sent a suit of clothes to a local firm of cleaners and dyers to be cleaned and pressed, and forgot to remove the $570 that the suit contained. He said that when the suit was returned the money was gone.

The money was in the form of two post office money orders for $100 each, issued in France; a bank draft for $200, a check for $20 and three $50 bills.

Detectives Cabaniss and Hay investigated but were unable to find any trace of the money.

WOMEN TO DISCUSS LEGISLATION IN N. Y.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 28.—The women's joint legislative conference, and state federation of labor, in session here today, were expected to develop plans for introducing into the New York state legislature bills to provide workmen's insurance, an eight-hour day for women and a minimum wage bill. Candidates to defeat those office-holders known to oppose this legislation will be discussed. A drive also will be made on assemblymen accused of following the program of Speaker Sweet, looked upon as an enemy of "welfare bills."

WOOD FIGURES IN RABBIT RAISING
HIGH COST OF
EVERYTHING NEEDS STUDY
BY BEGINNERPaper and Boxes Increase In Price and Add to the Cost of Food

BY CHARLES LATHROP PACK
Pres. American Forestry Association
(Written for the United Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—In figuring out your monthly grocery bills you find "that things have gone up" and in any mental battle with the high cost of living you almost always confine your struggle to food. Go back of food a step and you will find many things that increase the cost of the food you eat, although you cannot eat those things. The chief item of the list is wood.

In fact, wood is one of the chief reasons for the high cost of living and the American Forestry association calls attention to this with some startling figures. For example the box in which your berries or peaches are displayed at market cost about three times what it did in "the good old days." The barrel in which your flour found its way to the grocer has gone up in price. The paper in which your meat is wrapped is "away up." None of these things can be put through your digestive apparatus with any degree of success but the consumer pays his share in the price of the berries, the flour, the peaches or the meat.

There is scarcely a commodity that is not shipped or handled in a wood container of some sort. To say nothing of home consumption, the United States was exporting about three and a half billion board feet of lumber every year before the war.

Then the war called for wood. It went into temporary structures of every description, such as camps, hospitals, recreation huts, and the like. We must come up with a sharp turn on the lumber question. A national forest policy must be adopted in this country or we face economic suicide. The American Forestry association asks for the views of the lumbermen, timberland owners and foresters on this greatest of our reconstruction problems in order that a definite policy may be arrived at.

We have just fought and won the fight to save us from imperial aggression, but the fight to save us from economic ruin is just ahead of us. Are we going to let the sacrifice of our heroes go for naught? What of the future in an economic sense? The situation is just this:

The original forest area of the United States was eight hundred and fifty million acres.

There now remains in virgin timber about two hundred and thirty million acres, or one-fourth of the original.

Our total acreage of forest and cut over lands is about five hundred million acres. One hundred million acres of this is waste land which produces nothing and one hundred and eighty million acres more contain more or less second growth. A large percentage of this second growth timber is inferior quality.

THE NEW GROWTH OF TIMBER IS NOT MORE THAN ONE THIRD OF THE AMOUNT WHICH IS BEING USED OR DESTROYED EVERY YEAR.

There is plenty of food in that last paragraph but it is food for thought. What of our home building program when we realize that the center of our lumber industry is fast moving to the Pacific coast? What of our home building program when we realize that New England is no longer self-supporting in lumber and that the Lake states, once our greatest producers of lumber, are now importers of it from other states? This means long hauls and high freight rates, which the home builder must pay. The time to build a home is now, for without a national forest policy I do not believe cheaper lumber can be predicted.

The forests of France, millions of acres of which are now in ruins, kept the Hun from reaching Paris. Other vast acres had to be cut down for war purposes. Civilization can thank France for having a forest policy of more than a hundred years' standing. Her forests answered the call of war when war came. Had the war come fifteen years later we would have been pressed to meet the lumber program. Let us heed the call of the forests before it is too late.

AS RESULT OF
AUTO CRASHSuit Brought As Result of Accident on North
Main

With Scarborough & Forgy as his attorneys, Warren W. Myers today brought an action for $5,769 damages against W. D. Wright and R. F. Wright, doing business under the name of the Wright Motor Car Company, and M. J. Calderwood, as the result of an automobile accident on North Main street, south of Chapman avenue.

The complaint alleges that on May 22 Myers was driving south on North Main street and that the defendants were driving north on the same highway. It is alleged that the defendants carelessly and negligently caused their automobile to run into Myers' automobile.

The crash, it is alleged, was due to the defendants driving on the left side of the highway at a careless and negligent rate of speed.

Myers' automobile was crushed and broken, he alleges. Furthermore, he says in his complaint, his clothes were torn, his eye-glasses and watch were broken, his whole nervous system was shocked, his nose was broken, his left eye cut, his right hand broken and his wrist sprained.

As a result of his alleged injuries, Myers declares that he was confined to the hospital and to his room for about two months, that he was unable to work for three months thereafter and that he was permanently injured in health, body and nervous system.

REVERSES DECISION OF SUPERIOR COURT

The District Court of Appeals has reversed judgment entered by Superior Judge Thomas in Orange county in the appeal taken by Philip L. Wilson, one of the defendants in an action brought in Orange county in 1916 by E. E. Beazley. An order entered by Judge Thomas denying Wilson's application for change of place of trial from Orange county to Los Angeles county was affirmed by the appeals court.

Action was brought to recover $1000 and interest alleged to be due from the defendants, Wilson and O. H. Embree and Rachel M. Embree, on account of conditions stated in a contract for the sale of realty located in Los Angeles county. Beazley alleged that in 1911 he made a contract with the Embrees for the sale of the property and that in 1912 the vendees assigned the interest in the contract to Wilson. In the sale contract it was shown that $8000 was to be the purchase price. The plaintiff alleged that $4000 had been paid but that $1000, due December 1, 1915, had not been paid.

It was shown in the evidence that Wilson had received the Embrees' assignment after the payment of two initial installments of $500 each and that he took possession of the land and paid an additional $3000. In the action the Embrees were permitted to enter a cross-complaint against Wilson in which they alleged the same facts respecting Wilson's assumption of their contract obligation. The Embrees asked judgment against Wilson for any amount for which the court might render judgment in favor of the plaintiff against them and also asked that Wilson be declared the principal debtor.

The superior court's judgment awarded nothing to the Embrees, but directed that judgment be entered against the three defendants and that execution first issue against Wilson and that on a return of the judgment unsatisfied as to the whole or any part, execution then issue against the vendees; "hence there was no right of recovery of the judgment as made."

"It would appear by the terms of the contract that the Embrees assigned only their right, title and interest in the contract," the decision of the appeals court states.

Wilson's main contention is sustained, namely, that under the assignment of the contract as made he assumed no personal liability to the vendees; "hence there was no right of recovery of the judgment as made."

"It would appear by the terms of the contract that the Embrees assigned only their right, title and interest in the contract," the decision of the appeals court states.

WITH GRAND LARCENY

On motion of Deputy District Attorney Menton, the case of John Newkirk, Jr., charged with burglarizing the Huntington Inn at Huntington Beach, was dismissed in Department 1 of the Superior court today and a new complaint, charging grand larceny, was filed against him.

Newkirk is charged by Sam Clapp, proprietor of the Huntington inn, with robbing a till of $70.

Newkirk was arraigned in the justice court on the grand larceny charge following the dismissal of the former charge against him and his preliminary hearing set for September 2d at 2 p. m.

Brings Action for $1500 Damages
As Result of Crash

ASKING $1500 damages, alleged to have been suffered in an automobile accident, Archibald S. Ralph, secretary of the Orange County Automobile Club, today brought an action against Joe Anderson, the Republic Rubber Company of California, a corporation, and two John Doe defendants, one of them a corporation.

It is alleged that on August 22, H. O. Henderson, who has transferred his claim against the defendants to Ralph, was driving, in a careful manner, south on the highway between Anaheim and Santa Ana and that Henderson put out his hand in a horizontal position and ascertained by looking whether it was safe to make a turn into the El Retiro ranch.

The complaint sets forth that Henderson then turned to the left across the road and into the driveway of the ranch and that as he turned he was struck by an automobile driven by Anderson, whom Ralph charges with driving carelessly and negligently. Anderson is alleged to have driven his car at a reckless rate of speed.

Anderson was employed at the time of the accident by the Republic Rubber Company it is alleged.

APPEAL NOTICE IN CRASH CASE FILED

Notice of appeal was filed today by A. L. Abrahams and P. B. D'Orr, attorneys for the plaintiff in the case of the State Compensation Insurance Fund against Carl Jörn, an insurance agent of Orange. Judgment was given in favor of the defendant on June 26 of this year. It was alleged that the plaintiff insured E. G. Holmes of Orange against liability for workmen's compensation to employees injured, and that Earl Summers, employed by Holmes, was injured as a result of Jörn's alleged negligence, in February of 1916 while riding a motorcycle north of Orange. It was alleged that Jörn's automobile, which was being driven at an alleged high speed, ran into Summers, who claimed compensation against Holmes under the Workmen's Compensation Insurance and Safety Act. The complaint set forth that the plaintiff paid the compensation, medical and other expenses for which Holmes was liable to Summers. It was alleged that payment by the plaintiff operated as an assignment to the plaintiff of the right to recover damages against the defendant. Judgment of $15,851.60 was asked. In December, 1917, Superior Judge W. H. Thomas handed down a conclusion that Summers was not performing services growing out of or incidental to his employment, and that the making of the claim by Summers against Holmes and the filing of the claim against the plaintiff and the assumption and payment of the claim by the plaintiff concluded the defendant from questioning the validity of the claim, and demand made by Summers, and assumed and paid by the plaintiff. The plaintiff was entitled to judgment for $2000 and costs, was Judge Thomas' conclusion. On June 25 of this year a jury found in favor of the defendant and decreed that Jörn recover $65 costs.

It is believed here the men will be returned to this country by way of Tia Juara.

IRVINE - GALIVAN
ROAD WIDENING
IS INDICATEDState Calls For Bids to Improve Highway; May Build Shoulders

That the state highway between Galivan and Irvine, a distance of approximately nine miles, will be widened approximately three feet on each side, and that the highway will be resurfaced with asphalt, at least in those sections where surfacing is most necessary, is indicated to J. L. McBride, county surveyor, today by the fact that the state is calling for bids, to be opened on September 2nd, for work to be done on the Galivan-Irvine section of highway.

The call for bids specifies only a certain number of square yards of Topeka (asphalt) surfacing and a certain number of cubic yards of concrete. This is taken by McBride to indicate that it is contemplated to place shoulders on the section in question, and to surface the shoulders where necessary. Should the shoulders be laid the Galivan-Irvine section of highway would be increased from 15 feet in width to 21 feet.

McBride states that paving operations on Garden Grove avenue, near the county line on the road to Long Beach will be temporarily suspended tomorrow on account of lack of concrete and crushed rock. The railway strike is responsible for the non-delivery of material, McBride states.

As concerns the Santa Ana canyon paving, McBride today stated that the railway strike will not hold up the work, as a considerable stock of rock and cement had been hauled. Should this stock of material run out, arrangements will be made to truck cement direct from the Riverside Portland Cement plant, according to McBride.

It is expected that the Board of Supervisors will call for bids at their next meeting for the paving of a section one mile in length, at Olinda, extending easterly one mile to the Santa Fe depot.

METHODISTS ASK WILL INCREASE
FASTING AND
PRAYER HIGH SCHOOL
ENROLLMENTAugust 29 Set Aside For the Revival of An Ancient Church Custom

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 28.—The centenary commission of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, has named August 29th, as a special day of fasting and prayer for the two and a half million members of the church. The commission has also started a movement to establish 100,000 family altars, by having that many homes pledged to observe daily devotions. This is the revival of ancient customs in the church. It is part of an intensive campaign which the church has launched in connection with the spiritual side of the conservation program of the centenary movement, through which the Methodists raised $53,000,000 in an eight day drive last May.

The object of the present campaign as stated by Rev. S. A. Nebbett, secretary of the department of spiritual resources, is to enroll at least forty per cent of the church members in the prayer league known as the fellowship of intercession, to establish 100,000 family altars, and to assist in finding a thousand young people to go abroad as missionaries.

August 24-31 is known as enlistment week. During this period the seven thousand pastors will urge their members to join the fellowship of intercession, to establish family altars, and to observe the day of fasting and prayer.

JUDGE WEST CATCHES
"OODLES" OF TROUT

Returned from a hunting and fishing trip to the south fork of the Kern river, Superior Judge Z. B. West is ready to resume his duties on the bench.

Judge West, who made the trip with C. S. Crookshank, reports a great number of hunters in the Kern river section. He and Crookshank spent part of three days in hunting deer, but were unable to shoot one.

"We had all the mountain trout we could eat," said Judge West. "In fact we caught so many that we tired of them."

New Law Says Children Must Stay In School Until 16
Years Old

Enrollment of Orange county high schools will be materially increased this year as a result of California's new compulsory education law, local school officials believe.

The new law, which is now effective, provides that all boys and girls must remain in school until they are 16 years old. As most children finish their grammar school education when they are 15, the law practically means that two years of high school training are required.

The former law provided that boys and girls must remain in school until they were 15 years old or until they completed their grammar school training. Consequently many young people left school when they finished grammar school.

The laws regarding part time Americanization schooling will also be in force the coming year. They provide that all persons who cannot read and write English with the facility of the average sixth grade pupil must take at least four hours' training weekly in a public school. Persons under 21 are included.

MANY BOYS OF FLEET

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., Aug. 28.—A special trip through the Pajaro Valley apple district, with entertainment at Watsonville and other points and a rail trip to the famous big trees took nearly 1200 members of the Pacific fleet personnel out of Santa Cruz today, but with thousands more enjoying shore leave, a busy program is being given here.

Men and officers of part of the fleet are today guests of Pacific Grove and a special water fete is being held off the municipal beach, in which members of the battleships are competing with landsmen swimmers. Swimming races, canoe tilting, diving, etc., are on the program.

WORK STARTS ON NEW HARBOR PLANT

1919 WILL BREAK ALL BUILDING RECORDS FOR SANTA ANA

Season's Total Already Fifty Per Cent Greater Than That of Last Year

This is going to be the greatest building year in Santa Ana's history. Santa Ana is getting her stride and unless all signs fail the total operations of building during 1919 will be the greatest on record, exceeding even the year 1914, when the new high school was built and the building permits totaled $516,775.

Already, with four months yet to go, the building permits issued this year by Building Inspector Thomas Ash total $331,533, only $185,242 short of the 1914 figures, and this lead will be quickly overcome when permits are issued for the new $150,000 hotel, the new Chas. L. Davis garage at Sixth and Broadway, and the other business buildings and many residences planned to be begun within a few months.

And then there's the proposed new five or six-story First National Bank building. Of course, it may not be started this year, but no matter when the permit for its erection is secured, it will add a very substantial figure to the list of buildings.

Figures at the building inspector's office show that Santa Ana's growth has been steady during the past five years, and with the buildings proposed for the next four months indicate clearly that 1919 will take the palm. Here are the building permit figures for the past five years: 1915, $288,801; 1916, $298,629; 1917, $314,590; 1918, $215,344.45; 1919 to date, $331,533.

This year is already well ahead of any year since 1914, and the figures for the past eight months show a fifty per cent gain over the total 1918 figures.

The monthly totals for permits this year are as follows: January, $5,950; February, $27,486; March, $40,341; April, $35,808; May, $43,606; June, $55,619; July, $63,289; August to date, $59,435.

Two Double Apartments

An announcement of interest is that Henry N. Buck of 127 South Main street is to build two two-story double apartment buildings on his property at the southwest corner of Cypress and Walnut streets. They will be modern in every detail and a notable addition to the district. The old house on the property is being moved to the rear of the lot and will be understood, be remodeled. E. A. Noe has the contract for the new structures and expects to begin work probably next week.

Contractor Noe has the plastering done in the Carden & Seaman's business structure at Third and Sycamore. The two front rooms will be finished up as soon as possible and the finishing of the other rooms will be completed by October 1. The G. J. Seaman residence at Fifteenth and Broadway, being erected by Noe, is now ready for plastering.

Plan 3-Story Building
The W. V. Whitson-Aaron Buchheim business block to be erected at Third and Bush streets will probably be a three-story structure, according to the owners' plans. The details remain to be worked out, but there is every likelihood, according to indications today, that the building will be under way before the new year. This will undoubtedly be a valuable addition to the Third and Bush business district and will serve to boost adjoining property which has heretofore lain idle.

Contractor J. S. Fluor is making rapid progress with the Greenleaf garage building on Fifth, west of Broadway, using a new scheme of reinforcing which will serve to speed up the work materially. Fluor also has the Orange County Garage building at Sixth and Sycamore well under way. M. R. Heninger is proceeding with

Improvement of New Tract Will Begin Next Week

WITH platting of the Gist tract complete, Shaw & Russell next week will start side-walking and curbing their new residence place just west of the high school buildings. This promises to be one of the popular subdivisions of the city and while no name has as yet been definitely selected, it is very likely it will be known as Sunnyside No. 2.

The subdivision of this firm in the southeast part of town known as sunnyside addition, has been sold off and the quick disposition of lots in the tract is an incentive for the firm to attach the name Sunnyside to the new tract.

There are forty-two lots in the new subdivision, which is bounded on the west by Flower, east by Parton, north by Pine and south by Myrtle, with a fifty-foot strip north of Pine extending from Parton to Flower. The tract will be sewer and watered, the streets graded and everything will be in first class condition when the tract is offered to the city council for acceptance and lots are placed on the market.

A number of people are now waiting to purchase lots.

LARGER QUARTERS FOR MILES GROCERY

FULLERTON, Aug. 28.—F. E. Miles, proprietor of Miles' Cash grocery, has secured a lease on the Fullerton Theater building and will occupy the new quarters as soon as the building can be remodeled and gotten ready. The Miles grocery has outgrown its present quarters adjoining the theater building and was compelled to have more room. The new quarters are nearly twice as large as the room now occupied. The Miller barber shop occupies part of the old theater building. Mr. Miller will move into the room to be vacated by the grocery and the barber shop room will be added to the grocery. The entire front of the theater building and barber shop will be torn out and replaced with a modern front.

BUENA PARK PLANT CANNING TOMATOES

The Campbell concern, which is in charge of Superintendent Bryant, is handling tomatoes exclusively.

DOLLEY BUYS METCALF HOUSE AT SEAL BEACH

SEAL BEACH, Aug. 28.—A real estate deal of considerable local interest was consummated last week by A. L. Havens, who sold the Metcalf property on First street to R. E. Dolley. Mr. and Mrs. Dolley will occupy the property as their home and they will have a beautiful place in which to live. It has a fine view of Naples and Alamitos bay—the home of the seals.

This is one of the most attractive places in Seal Beach and Mr. Dolley is to be congratulated upon securing such a desirable residence.

AT PLACENTIA

W. J. Jaeger is building another rental cottage on his Murray street property, and has it well under way. Chris Anderson has started a five-room house on the lot next to the Kraemer building. It is rented already, R. D. Dunham having his bid in for it long in advance.

BANKERS DECIDE TO RESIDE ON THEIR RANCH PROPERTIES

Citrus Groves Look Better Than Walls of Buildings

Lemon Heights and Tustin orange groves look better to Leroy Hall and his sons, Frank and Clare, than the inside of a bank, and by the first of November all will be permanent residents of this immediate vicinity, with Frank operating the Arthur Hoefer 10-acre ranch on Newport road, Tustin, and Clare looking after a 25-acre orange and lemon grove at Newport Heights, formerly belonging to S. E. Babson.

Leroy Hall purchased the beautiful home of Babson on North Main street last May and came here to make his home. Recently he purchased the Hoefer place and this week concluded negotiations for the Babson ranch, the consideration being $33,000.

The two ranch properties were bought for his sons, both of whom have been active in the Commercial State Bank at Crawford, Neb., and both of whom are vice presidents of the financial institution, the father being president. The sons will continue to hold their offices with the bank, but will sever active relations and will make their homes here.

Frank and his family would have been here now but for the strike, and are expected by the time school opens. He will stay for a short time only and will return to Crawford, leaving his family here, and will be back again by the first of November to take up a permanent residence. Clare and family also will be here by the opening of school, coming to remain. While the Babson ranch was bought for Frank, his father will make it optional with him as to whether he wants to purchase it or not. If he does not, the father will retain it. There is no residence on the property, and if the younger man decides to make it his home, he probably will build a handsome residence.

The sale of the Babson ranch to Hall was negotiated by Carden and Liebig.

Hatzfeld to Build

J. P. Hatzfeld, member of the drug firm of Hatzfeld and Parsons, has purchased three acres of oranges at Tustin, where he will erect a fine residence and make the place his home. He bought the property from Sam Tustin. It is the triangular piece formed by D street, Newport road and Laguna avenue, Tustin, and is prettily situated for a home site. The consideration was $12,000, and also was handled by Carden and Liebig.

Work On New Hotel Will Be Started Soon

Old Building On Grounds Being Razed

71 Guest Rooms In Three Story Structure

Architect Hunt Completing Plans and Specification Details For Work

Events are rapidly shaping themselves for the early beginning of construction work on Santa Ana's new $150,000 tourist hotel, to be located on North Broadway opposite the court house. Architect Myron Hunt of Los Angeles has the detailed plans and specifications practically completed and preliminary figures are being obtained to guide the hotel directors in their course.

Meanwhile, as plans for the new structure go forward, Dr. E. H. Waters, who recently bought the old building occupying the hotel site, is razing it so that the property will be in readiness for work upon the new building by the latter part of September.

The trustees of the hotel fund are W. A. Huff, John Cubbon, H. J. Forgy, Geo. B. Shattuck and A. J. Crookshank. The hotel is to be of three stories, with seventy-one guest rooms, and arranged in the shape of a T, with the top of the T resting on Birch street so as not to disturb many of the trees on the site.

The hotel plans were drawn by Architect Hunt, who is architect for D. M. Linnard, best known of California's hotel men, and the plans are in accordance with the detail plans of Linnard's hotels in the arrangement of rooms.

Enlarged By Purchase.
The hotel grounds have been enlarged by the purchase of a lot 50 by 125 feet facing on Birch street and adjoining the Bailey property at the north. This lot does not run through to Broadway. The hotel is to occupy the property bought from Mrs. J. G. Bailey by the hotel trustees some months ago, and the lot on Birch is in addition to the original site.

The main driveway into the hotel grounds will be from Broadway between two palms now growing there. This driveway will turn back and have the exit on Broadway close to the south line of the property. Sidewalks are to be laid north and south and east and west through the grounds inside the driveway.

At the east end of the first floor, facing Broadway, will be a sun room, and back of it the lobby, measuring 44 by 120 feet. The top of the T of the first floor of the building will be occupied by a kitchen at each end. On the south side of the top of the T will be the grill room, and north of it the dining room. Between the two will be a movable partition, so that either grill room or dining room can be enlarged or shortened, or thrown into one big room measuring 44 by 125 feet.

Rooms For Guests.
The second and third floors will be devoted to rooms for guests. A feature on each floor will be eight rooms with sleeping porches. In every suite will be a bath room and in each room a lavatory so that in renting rooms a guest may have a room with or without a bath, yet each room will have its lavatory.

A ball room is to be provided for in the basement. In drawing his plans, the architect seemed to sense the idea of making the place homelike and comfortable. Just the kind of a place to appeal to passing motorists as well as to easterners seeking a place where they can stay and enjoy repose and California's climate.

The structure is not to be ornate nor "loud" in its appearance. Rather, it is to be built in plain lines, white with green blinds, restful and inviting. While the trustees of the hotel have not officially adopted a name for the hotel, the architect has designated his plans as plans for St. Anne's Inn.

DRIVING PILES AT BEACH FOR NEW CANNING CORPORATION

Concern Which Is Capitalized at $100,000 Begins Its Buildings

Heralding the coming of the first industrial plant to Orange county as a result of the voting of the $500,000 bond issue for the improvement of Newport harbor, pile driving operations, preliminary to the commencement of erecting the plant of the Newport Packing company, a corporation recently organized, are under way today on the company's property at Newport.

The property on which the canning plant is being built is located in Lancaster's addition to Newport Beach. It is located on the channel and consists of six lots in block 324, which is bounded by Twenty-sixth street and Lafayette avenue.

The land was purchased from John King and the consideration is said to have been $1,000.

Capitalized at $100,000

The Newport Packing company, according to the articles of incorporation filed in Santa Ana, is capitalized at $100,000. The stock is divided into 100,000 shares of a par value of $1 each.

The board of directors are Lawrence W. Brady, J. W. Marr, M. F. Lowman, Louis N. Wheaton and P. A. Gillespie, all of Long Beach. Wheaton is an attorney at Long Beach and was formerly mayor of that city, as well as city attorney.

To Can All Kinds of Foods

The concern proposes to can all kinds of foods. Canning activities will center principally on sea products, but vegetables will also be handled, according to Wheaton.

Asked if the question of odors likely to arise from the canning plant had been taken into consideration, Wheaton stated that it was intended to install proper deodorizing equipment.

TURN DOWN OFFER OF $100,000 FOR LEASE

ANAHEIM, Aug. 28.—The men who are interested in Heffern well No. 2, the new well which has been started on the north 77 acres of the Heffern lease, have turned down an offer of $100,000 and a one-sixth royalty for the property just as it stands.

A counter proposition was made but it is not known whether or not it will be accepted. The Heffern field has reached a point where many men consider it practically proven oil property and it is believed that all that is necessary is getting the wells in working order.

This, however, is a big piece of work and takes time. Heffern No. 1 is down to 2950 and the work of cementing off the water was begun Sunday. Yesterday a piece of pipe became stuck in the hole but it is believed this will be only a temporary setback. However, it may cause delay.

Those who are interested in Heffern No. 1 participate in all the sub-leases to the extent of the difference between the one-eighth royalty of the original lease and whatever royalty is named in the sub-lease.

WATCH THE CRANK CASE

The engine must always be properly aligned with the other units in the chassis, and rest squarely on the brackets intended to carry it.

No unnecessary strain should be put upon any part of the crankcase when the engine is bolted down.

All bolts should be kept tight, as any looseness in these bolts permits a hammering and pounding of the engine upon its brackets, which in time crystallizes the metal and breakage results.

INSPECT WIRE WHEELS.

Owners of cars fitted with wire wheels should give these parts a weekly inspection for loose spokes. While the wire wheel is strong enough to resist astonishing shocks, nevertheless such a blow may loosen one or two of the spokes, and such damage should be immediately repaired. Where the enamel has cracked off, paint should be applied to keep moisture from working its way in and inducing rust.

residence at 1128 West Pine. Mary Balshaw and Nancy Reuter to Lotta Bows, residence at 2004 Bush, the sellers owning the property but two days, taking an advance in price. Maurice Phillips has sold his home place at 1414 East Fourth street to Dr. Herbert T. Webster, who comes here from Oakland to reside. Phillips has since purchased the Purrington acre lot and residence at 324 East Twentieth street, to which he will move shortly, and Purrington has bought W. H. Burkhardt's residence at 238 West Chestnut.

Boose Sells Ranch
John Boose has sold his 40-acre ranch one mile north of Bolsa to H. O. Merritt, who is a well known dairyman. The consideration was $14,000, and the deal was made by Hankey and Cole. The property is now producing heets but the new owner will plant it to alfalfa.

Freeman Bloodgood reports the sale of the George Hill 4-room house on Stafford street to J. Adama, and 2 1/2 acres belonging to Mrs. Jos. Lowell to John Newcomer. The place is at the corner of Tenth and Towner streets and Newcomer will build a residence.

One of the quick actions of the week was the sale by George Paul of his residence at 706 West Third street to J. W. Shields. Possession was given within a week, Mr. and Mrs. Paul taking apartments at the Fowler House. The Pauls had occupied the residence for twenty-four years.

AMERICA LEADER IN GROWING OF SWINE

Of cattle the world contains probably 475 million head, of which the United States has about one-seventh. Of sheep the world contains approximately 500 million head, of which the United States has about one-tenth.

Of swine the world contains in the neighborhood of 180 million head, of which the United States contains considerably more than one-third.

In other words, swine are less numerous than either sheep or cattle in the world at large, but are more numerous than either in the United States.

Or the same classes may be considered in this way:

In cattle the United States is second to India, with three other countries, Russia, Brazil and Argentina, following.

In sheep the United States is second to Australia, with Argentina, Russia and New Zealand the principal sheep-raising competitors.

In swine the United States is easily first, and this year has more hogs than her ten nearest competitors all combined. The closest of these are Brazil, Germany and Russia.

So the greater abundance of swine is perhaps the most noteworthy difference between the meat resources of the United States and most other countries.

BAUER SELLS RANCH 10 ACRES, $20,000

ANAHEIM, Aug. 28.—George Bauer has sold to J. B. Mulvey his seven-year-old orange and lemon orchard on East Center street, Anaheim Extension, for $20,000, including this year's orange crop. There are 7 acres of oranges and 2 acres of lemons in the grove. The 20 acres of land west of the old cemetery on East Center street was purchased by Bauer and his father 18 years two for $45 per acre. In 1900 the elder Bauer deeded his one-half interest to his son, who in 1912 set the place to orange and lemon trees. In 1916 he exchanged the east part of the grove to J. W. Walls for a two-story brick building at Newport Beach, which he still owns.

THREE RESIDENCE PROPERTIES SOLD

ORANGE, Aug. 28.—J. C. Cassidy has sold his fine modern residence property in west Almond avenue to W. A. Gish, a recent arrival from Arkansas. L. and S. Ralls have sold the well located property, consisting of a house and two lots on North Glassell to Mrs. M. Thompson, and O. D. Mathews has purchased the desirable home place of J. L. Weaver on North Grand street.

GOLDEN STATE BANK TO INCREASE STOCK

ANAHEIM, Aug. 28.—The directors of the Golden State bank have called a meeting of the stockholders for October 22 for the purpose of increasing the capital stock of the corporation from $50,000 to $100,000. The bank has had a steady growth and has made an enviable reputation for square dealing and the directors feel that this move is for the best interests of the stockholders.

KEEP FLAP SMOOTH.

In inserting the tubes in giant pneumatic tires as used on trucks today, it is particularly necessary to see that the flap is evenly distributed around the circumference of the tire. In many cases it is too short at first glance, but after it has been smoothed down firmly it will lie so that its base is in line with the base of the beads of the tire.

residence building in his additions on South Birch and has plans under way. It is understood, for at least a half dozen more residences to be erected within the next few weeks. P. A. Robinson's series of bungalows on East Fifth and East Sixth are also being erected with dispatch.

Progress, Progress Everywhere
One can't go any direction these days, either in city or country, without seeing several new houses in course of construction and piles of lumber on the ground for more. The contractors, brick layers, plasterers, finishers, lathers and everybody else are busy and in spite of the high cost of everything which goes to the making of new buildings, there is construction activity as never before.

One of the imposing structures being put up at Anaheim is the new First Methodist church on Broadway and Philadelphia street, in charge of a Los Angeles contractor. The framework is up and gives an indication of the magnitude of the new edifice. Work on the new Anaheim bungalow court on many fine residences in the Anaheim-Fullerton-Placentia districts is going forward as never before.

It's a great year for building in Orange county and the activity is getting more intense every day.

SOLD RESIDENCE WITHOUT HOME UNTIL BUILD

FULLERTON, Aug. 28.—Judge William French recently sold his home on Santa Fe avenue and must give possession in a short time. He and Mrs. French scouted around the city in search of a house to rent, but without success. One woman residing at Santa Ana owns a house here which they learned was for rent and they drove down to see her about it, only to learn that three other parties had spoken ahead of them. On the way home they decided the best thing to do was to build a house of their own. They purchased a lot in the Richmond subdivision through Pinson & Thresher and will build a garage immediately, which they will use for living quarters until they can get their house built.

E. K. Gerhardt, son-in-law of Judge French, purchased a lot in the Richmond subdivision and intends to build a home for himself and family just as soon as the contract can be let.

VILLA PARK CHURCH WILL BE IMPROVED

VILLA PARK, Aug. 28.—As a result of J. B. Handy deciding that the local church needed painting, the work is to be started soon. Mr. Handy, after consulting the pastor on the matter, made a generous contribution which started a fund that has grown swiftly since.

The trustees have let the contract for the job and work will commence soon.

A large portion of the fund has been given freely by people of this community who are not actively associated with this church. It is expected that after the painting is finished and a new porch built, that all the surplus money will be used in beautifying the church and parsonage grounds.

BEAUTIFYING HOME IN PERALTA HILLS

A. Edman, who recently purchased a grove and home in the Peralta hills tract from the C. B. Berger company, has been sparing no time and expense in making it one of the beauty spots of this section.

Beautiful winding cement driveways and curbing with artistically arranged lawns, shrubbery, hedges and flowers of various kinds, all conforming with the particular architecture and site of the home, is the plan that the new owner has carried out remarkably well.

The Edmans' came recently from the old part of Canada, where they had lived for years, and to say that they are pleased with their new home is expressing it very mildly.

HOUSES AND LOTS IN BIG DEMAND, ANAHEIM

ANAHEIM, Aug. 28.—There is an unusual amount of activity in exchange of building lots and houses, indicating that more new homes are going to be erected, says Frank Baum realty agent. He has sold four houses in the last two weeks, and more than that number of building lots. Saturday he sold a lot on West Broadway for F. C. Rimpau to B. Dauser, who will build. Dauser bought a house and lot through Baum a few days before. He will reside in this until the new home is erected. Baum also sold Saturday on No. Philadelphia street for E. Bone to W. Thompson. Another exchange made by Baum was a lot in Santa Ana to H. P. Tobin.

A Traveling Man's Experience
You may learn something from the following by W. H. Ireland, a traveling salesman of Louisville, Ky. "In the summer of 1888 I had a severe attack of cholera morbus. I gave the hotel porter fifty cents and told him to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy and to take no substitute. I took a double dose of it according to the directions and went to sleep. At five o'clock in the morning I was called by my order and took a train for my next stopping place, a well man."—Adv.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 28.—Laundry owners in San Diego will pay more for having their shoes repaired, and shoe repair men will pay more for having their linen washed. Announced prices for laundry work show an advance of from 20 to 25 per cent; the new figures for shoe repairs are awaited with trepidation.

POMONA, Aug. 28.—Preparatory to the opening of school in Pomona in the middle of September it has been found that the popularity of the machine shop and automobile repair instruction has been such that for the new school year far larger facilities will be needed in those departments. WINTERSBURG AND SMELTZER

WINTERSBURG AND SMELTZER.

Aug. 28.—Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stockton returned Sunday morning from a trip to Cantil which they made in company with Dr. and Mrs. U. G. Lyttell of Santa Ana. The party motored and the farther from home they went the hotter they found the weather. At Mojave the temperature was 120 at six o'clock in the evening and they are wondering where the thermometer stood in the heat of the day.

During the four days of their stay the party were guests of Mrs. Stockton's and Mrs. Lyttell's brother, John Blaylock, and thoroughly enjoyed the pleasure derived from his forty-acre watermelon patch.

A trip to Saltdale, about six miles from Cantil was made on Thursday and they were taken through the salt works and packing house. Friday the party went to Randsburg, thirty miles distant and went through some of the rich gold mines located there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Graham came Sunday evening from Puente to remain a few days at the J. J. Graham home while the former is overhauling the tractor.

C. H. Maddux started cutting his forty acres of lima beans Tuesday of this week.

Mrs. J. T. Stockton visited Monday with Miss Martha McKerrick of Tustin and through her learned the details of the pleasant trip she and Miss Eunice Stockton enjoyed together in the north. The young ladies left here three weeks ago and Miss McKerrick has just returned. Miss Stockton entered Berkeley the 20th and is taking a commercial course with several added subjects besides the regular prescribed studies. She is staying with friends within ten minutes walk of the University.

Bert Hoover, C. H. Maddux and E. R. Bradbury came in Sunday morning from Kern county where they went on a hunting trip ten days before. The trip proved a most pleasant one but unsuccessful as far as deer hunting was concerned as not one buck was sighted. The party went as far by machine as possible and then packed back two days into the high range on Little Kern. Here they were joined by Hoover's brother who is a game warden in that section and he accompanied them acting as guide.

As there has been no opportunity for bees to be shipped out of this section since the strike began on the Southern Pacific lines all beet harvesting is halted here. Some bees already plowed out are drying up in the fields and several carloads are rotting on the tracks. The beet dump crews are continuing at their posts awaiting further developments and in readiness to resume work when possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Edwards were Sunday visitors at the Wm. Edwards home at Westminster.

Two houses on the former "Golden West" ranch now the property of the Anaheim Sugar company were moved the first of the week to the Gottu ranch near Westminster, also Sugar company property. The houses were those formerly occupied, one by the Walker family, and the other by an Italian family. The moving was done by a Long Beach house mover.

The men and teams that were to accompany the "Golden West" thresher for the season gathered Tuesday night at Smeltzer and left early Wednesday morning for the San Joaquin where the bean harvest is starting. Harry Woodington went in charge of the crew.

TALBERT NOTES

TALBERT, Aug. 28.—F. D. Plavan, sons, Leland and Paul, and daughters, Misses Edith and Wilma, arrived Saturday after an absence of several weeks while on a vacation and hunting trip. The party drove from here to Springville, where Mrs. Plavan's brother, Peter Plavan, resides, and after a visit at his home were accompanied by him and his son, Clarence Plavan, back into the higher range. They packed back about twenty-two miles, one day's journey, and camped near the edge of the Sequoia Park. From there the men of the party went on frequent deer hunts but they did not succeed in bringing any down. Leland wounded one but could not get another shot at it. Mr. Plavan saw eleven deer while on the trip and one came through the camp where the young ladies were while the men were away. Venison was enjoyed by the party while in camp, however, one of the other hunters camped in the vicinity having divided with them.

Mrs. L. T. Wells heard from her son, Eugene Perry, Monday evening. Perry joined the navy last week and was assigned to the "New Mexico." At the time of writing, Friday, the boat was anchored at Santa Barbara and the next stop due was at San Francisco. He liked naval life fine so far he said and was receiving the very best of treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cox and family were Santa Ana visitors Tuesday of this week.

A late card received from Mrs. J. J. Woodson states that camp life is getting rather monotonous to her and she wishes she were at home. The family is spending a month's vacation at Ganesha Park, Pomona, having left here two weeks ago. Rev. and Mrs. Woodson were spending a part of their time working in the fruit.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Gislser and family were Long Beach visitors Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Wardlow and family returned Monday evening following a motor trip to Tulare, where they spent a pleasant week at the home of Mr. Wardlow's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Swift and Miss Mildred Swift remained at the Wardlow home during their absence.

Robt. Gislser started hauling beets Wednesday of this week. He has in fifty acres.

All the beet dumps on the Pacific Electric line through Talbert are continuing at full blast, not having been affected so far by the strike. The motor which is sent out from the Holly factory is sufficient to move out all the cars and the beets are being harvested as per schedule.

Ed Helm is the first bean rancher to begin the harvest in the immediate Talbert vicinity. He commenced cutting the first of this week.

The report of the local committee of the Orange County War Recognition Association gives the amount raised up to Tuesday evening at $79.50. The quota is $190 and subscriptions are not coming in as rapidly as could be wished for. The committee is continuing to make every effort possible to raise the required amount and does not intend that any one shall escape the opportunity to purchase a button.

The party composed of Mrs. Lamb, her sons, Earl and Hugo Lamb, and their families and daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gregg Harper and family, have returned from a two weeks' outing. During that time the party traveled over considerable country. Leaving here their first stop was at Wheeler Springs and from there to Santa Barbara, Bakersfield and many other points.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Pettit drove over from Whittier Monday bringing Mrs. Ben Rogers and daughters, Dorothy, Rose and Violet, to the S. E. Talbert home. Mrs. Rogers and the children had been away a week while visiting at Whittier, Hollywood and Long Beach with relatives, and the Pettits came by way of Long Beach after them.

R. H. Obarr preached at the local church last Sunday evening and will also fill the pulpit on next Sunday in the absence of the pastor, J. J. Woodson.

S. E. Talbert moved his thresher to Paularino Monday and is now threshing out his grain on his ranch there. A part of the crew are boarding in the neighborhood and the others are taken back and forth to work by auto.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wells entertained as guests for the day Sunday the former's father, L. T. Wells, and family; Mrs. Wells' sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lebens, and father, David Huffman of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Turley of Huntington Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Jones, with Mr. and Mrs. Gail Bergey of Huntington Beach, drove to Los Angeles on business, and going in on Stephenson avenue had an opportunity of seeing the lines of cars of produce which is ruining for lack of transportation due to the strike.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Jones were hosts Wednesday at dinner at which a party of relatives were the guests. Those present included Mr. Jones' mother, Mrs. A. E. Jones, of Huntington Beach, sister, Mrs. Lon Lawton, and daughter, Eunice, of Huntington Beach, sister-in-law, Mrs. Joe Jones, of Los Angeles, and son, Steward, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Atkinson, of Trabuca, uncle, Oliver Atkinson, also of Trabuca, an uncle, Jesse Atkinson, wife and two children, of Yuma, Ariz. The latter family is here for the warm weather period and is visiting relatives in this vicinity. On Sunday they, with Mrs. A. E. Jones and Mrs. Kenneth Sargent of Huntington Beach, made their first trip to Catalina.

BUSINESS PROPERTY IS CHANGING HANDS

ANAHEIM, Aug. 28.—Geo. Ross, of the Orange County Realty Co., reports the sale of 40 feet frontage on West Center street just east of Pressel's blacksmith shop. The buyer has not announced his plans as to building on it.

Ross also announces the sale of 37 feet frontage at the southwest corner of Center and Clementine streets to F. C. Goodman, formerly of Cleveland, now of Los Angeles. Mr. Goodman will put up a brick building, probably for a garage.

LONDON.—The compulsory closing of all stores at 7 p. m. four nights a week is included in a bill now before parliament.

BUSINESS BLOCK IN PROSPECT AT ANAHEIM

Sale of Lot Corner Los Angeles and Elm Indicates
New Structure

ANAHEIM, Aug. 28.—A. A. Peterson company of Los Angeles has purchased through B. V. Beebe the lot at the corner of South Los Angeles and Elm streets. It is reported that a new building will be erected on the lot and a branch agency for the sale of used automobiles will be opened in the very near future.

John Koge, to whom the C. B. Berger company recently sold the See 10-acre grove, situated south of Anaheim, is making many important improvements.

H. L. Brisco, the contractor, has a force of men entirely remodeling the house and painters are redecorating. The Koges expect to be able to take possession about the first of next month. They had the misfortune of several very fine trees being severely burned through the breaking and dropping of a high voltage Edison wire about two weeks ago.

Dr. Minney of Brookhurst has sold his 10-acre walnut grove northwest of Anaheim to W. J. Johnson of Los Angeles. Johnson, who is an oil man engaged in the local field, will move his family to the newly acquired property in about 60 days. The present high prices of walnuts together with the magnificent crop makes such property very desirable. The sale was handled through the Ross Brothers' office.

F. C. Goodman of Cleveland, Ohio, was so well impressed with business prospects in Anaheim that he bought a piece of business property on his first visit to the city. His purchase consists of a lot at the southwest corner of West Center and Clementine streets, paying a little in excess of $200 per front foot. Upon his return from the east Mr. Goodman expects to remove the old house now on the lot and erect a brick building. Ross Brothers of the Orange County Realty company, handled the deal.

W. J. Lake has purchased for a home the residence at the corner of Cypress and Olive. He has lived in this home for some time, but to feel sure of a home he felt the only safe thing was to buy the place.

John Schreff has sold five acres in the Golden State tract to B. Hartfield and John Reuther.

B. Dauser has purchased a house and lot on Chestnut street from Bender Silbernagel.

The first bungalow of the court being erected by Billy Franz, is about two-thirds completed, and he expects to let the contract in a few days for a second of the series of houses he plans to erect.

He reports an insistent demand for houses, having had numerous opportunities to rent the one he is now building. It has four rooms. He has been offered $35 a month for it furnished on a six months' lease.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Little, of Mt. Clemens, Mich., have arrived in Anaheim and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Yeoman. They have sold their home and business interests in Michigan and are intending to make California their future home. Judging from the advertising, they decided that Anaheim must be about the best place to locate, and they have not been disappointed.

Theodore Roberts has sold a lot to John Kirsch on the corner of Palm and Chartress streets. Mr. Kirsch plans the erection of a modern bungalow.

Fred Koessel is erecting a fine modern bungalow for a home just west of Fremont school on Center street. It will cost in the neighborhood of $4500.

Eygabroad & Fishes, who have taken over the 100-acre citrus ranch of Drs. Johnston and Houck, southwest of Anaheim and have subdivided it, have sold ten acres of one to three-year-old Valencia to Hicks & Goodman, of Los Angeles, for $12,000 cash.

STANDARDIZING WILL LOWER CLOTHING PRICE

The decision of the wool council to recommend the government to revive the standard clothing scheme on a compulsory basis is expected to have far reaching results. The price of cloth certainly will be considerably reduced, and the application of the conversion costs principle should discover exactly where the profiteering has occurred. The cost of the wool will be taken and the cost of converting the wool into tops (combed wool wound into balls), the tops into yarn, the yarn into cloth, with the expenses of finishing and dyeing the cloth and the making up into suits and distribution to the customer. Each process will be scientifically costed, with results that may be uncomfortable for the profiteer.

A member of the wool council said he anticipated the new scheme would bring down the price of wool and worsted textiles by fully 50 per cent, and the purchaser would be given as wide a choice in designs and qualities as in the present free market. The effect of this fall should be to bring down the price of "free" cloth.

The costing system should show why a 20-ounce botany serge made from a 2-48s yarn spun from a 64s top, which cost about 5s ($1.25) a yard in 1914, now costs about 25s ($6.25); why yarn which could be marketed at a profit in 1914 at 2s. 1d (7c) per pound should cost 14s ($3.50) per pound today, and consequently why a suit costing $22.5s ($11.25) before the war should now be eight guineas or more. It will also reveal the circumstances in which the spinner who was satisfied with 1d (2c) a pound profit in 1914, now gets about 7d (14c) per pound profit—London Times.

"Well, I don't know that it will make a man successful, but it ought to be a delightful study."

NEWPORT BEACH FOLK THRILLED BY AIR RIDES

Lieut. Remelin Takes Several Up For Joy Trips and Pulls Off Stunts

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 28.—Flying is getting to be quite a commonplace thing in Newport Beach, at least, as Lieut. E. L. Remelin, late of Uncle Sam's cavalry of the air, has been here most of the week and took up quite a number of the local celebrities in a Curtis army tractor plane, owned by the Mercury Aviator Company of Hollywood. He is being assisted by C. H. Pickun, also with the Mercury plane.

Monday he made a number of trips from the beach at Balboa and took up several persons, among them being "Doughboy" Jack McCain and his wife. Jack said it was a bird of a trip.

Lewis Dixon was another victim of "flytits" and was badly bitten by the flying bug on the first day of its arrival. The pilot must have known that Lew was a very brave man and would die game, for he took him through all the "rough roads" of the air. Lew was looking for a thrill or two and he got 'em. Remelin, apparently wanted to make a flier of his passenger, so he initiated him in all the different flight sensations. After climbing to a safe (?) altitude at about eighty miles per hour, the pilot yanked the "joy stick" and the plane keeled a graceful somersault at an acute angle (for Lew); then he took a nose dive at about 125 miles per hour and coming out of this he went into a tail spin and just about the time his victim had given up all hope and would have had his eyes cast toward heaven in humble supplication, had he known the direction, the plane came gracefully out of the spin and Lewis felt that he had a fighting chance of one in a million to live again. Lew liked the "joyride" so well that he went up again on the following day.

W. K. Parkinson also watched the various flights with considerable interest, and finally succumbed to an attack, although his better judgment told him that the air was full of holes and the ground a much safer place on which to stand or fall. Pickun gave the propeller a couple of turns, Remelin shot his throttle forward and the plane rose majestically. "Park" settled himself snugly, prepared to enjoy the flight. Ordinarily, "Park" is an ardent devotee of music and singing, but the music of those whistling wires sounded like a funeral dirge to him. But W. K. was as safe as a bug in a rug in comparison with what was about to follow. Failing to inspire any appearance of outward terror in his fearless passenger, the pilot began a series of contortions calculated to upset the serenity of an Egyptian sphinx. He tried the tail spin, the double loop, the nose dive, the shimmy, the hula hula and some other movements that usually make your breakfast and dinner light; but if "Park" became hysterical he kept it under cover.

Lieut. Remelin, who is one of Uncle Sam's reserves, is a very capable flier, and puts a plane through all the stunts known to the birdmen. His plane has a 90-horsepower engine, and is capable of making 80 miles per hour.

DON'T SLIP CLUTCH
Do not disengage the clutch when braking the car on slippery streets. The differential acts as an excellent equalizer for the brakes if the weight of the engine is left on the drive shaft.

Prove for your own satisfaction the great advantage of keeping the clutch engaged by throwing the brake on hard on a wet pavement with the clutch set and the car moving rapidly and doing the same thing with the clutch remaining in engagement.

LIGHT ZONE FOR FULLERTON IS DECIDED

Spadra Will Be "White Way" From Union to Truslow Street

FULLERTON, Aug. 28.—For many months the city board of trustees have been talking about an ornamental light zone, but had never definitely agreed on the boundaries of the zone or the kind of pole to be used.

A large zone was mapped out and City Engineer Wells was instructed to get the views of property owners in the proposed zone as to whether they desired the ornamental lights.

Mr. Wells made an almost complete canvass of the zone, only to learn that there was considerable opposition to it from the property owners on account of the expense attached.

At a meeting of the city trustees a definite start was made toward installing an ornamental lighting system and the zone decided upon.

Spadra will be lighted from Union to Truslow, and Commonwealth, a block east and one block west of Spadra. That was the zone established on motion of Trustee Albert H. Sitten.

This is only a starter, however, being the belief of the trustees that when the ornamental lights are established in this zone that residents of other parts of the city will want the zone extended.

Trustee Robert Strain was desirous of taking in the high school, grammar school and public library into the established zone, but other members thought this zone too large for a starter and they finally decided on Spadra and Commonwealth.

The Edison people have already signified their willingness to remove their poles from Spadra at any time the city wishes to install the ornamental lights.

The kind of pole to be used will be decided upon by the trustees and the civic planning committee of the board of trade.

It is proposed to make Spadra one of the best lighted thoroughfares in Southern California, all of which will make Fullerton more attractive to the visitor as well as to the residents.

The installing of the lights will be under the local improvement act. The trustees also took up the matter of paving on several different streets and alleys and this work will be brought to a head just as soon as all the data can be secured.

City Engineer Wells was instructed to make a survey of Nicolas avenue, which it is proposed to pave immediately. Then surveys and estimates will be made on the other streets and roads, connecting them up with the paved district.

$1000 Men

Are you in the $1000 class?

Have you $1000 in the bank?

It's surprising how few men really have $1000 of their own to their credit.

Most men have a pretty good income, not as much as they would like, perhaps, but enough for their living expenses with at least $2 a week left over.

Then why aren't more men in the $1000 class?

Because until the VICTORY ACCOUNT was adopted by this bank there was no attractive plan which offered any incentive for saving small amounts.

The only thing banks had to offer was a regular savings account. But now this institution takes pride in offering a plan that makes it possible for a man to jump into the $1000 class in a few days, weeks, months or years.

All you have to do is open a VICTORY ACCOUNT and deposit about $7.67 each month. Either yourself or some member of your family is insured when you open your account, and, should this insured person die a few days, months or years after you have started your account, then this bank calls upon the insurance company for enough money to increase your balance to $1000 at once.

Or—if no death occurs—in ten years you will have deposited $920.40, but you are a $1000 man because this bank added interest each year, which in ten years increases the account to $1000.

You can close your account and withdraw your money if you want it, as per table.

With a VICTORY ACCOUNT no man is barred from the $1000 class.

You are under no obligation to continue, once you are started as you may close your account and withdraw your money, in accordance with table in your pass book.

There are many advantages in a VICTORY ACCOUNT and we'll be glad to tell you about them.
